THE FIRST GUN FIRED IN SENATE.

Beveridge an Insurgent, Favors the Compact.

Congressional Battle Over Canadian Reciprocity Begun.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The first gun in the Congressional battle over Canadian reciprocity was fired in the Senate today. Senator Beveridge of Indiana, an insurgent, was the marksman, and he lined up on the side of the administration. He did not make pretense of representing others of the progressive Republican camp.

Plunging immediately into the heart of his subject, Mr. Beveridge welcomed the compact as the first concrete evidence of the establishment of such relations with Canada as he thought the United States should maintain with a country so closely adjoined physically, and with a people so intimately allied with Americans in kinship and interest. Contending for the importance of the principle involved he urged the necessity for prompt and decided action. The details, he said, were of comparatively little significance and might well be left to future adjustment.

"Shall the United States and Canada begin the policy of mutual trade concessions and commercial friendliness, or shall we make permanent the policy of trade obstruction and commercial hostility between the countries?" Thus asking, Mr. Beveridge said these were real questions which must be answered in dealing with the reciprocal agreement. His general position was then announced as follows: "If some think the agreement is not all it should be, because of the treatment of a few articles, the answer is that even if this objection is sound as to those few details yet it is negligible when compared with the importance of getting this great national policy established.

"As a matter of fact it will be found that the objection to a few scattered items is not sound, for this is a matter of agreement and mutual concessions are necessary. Even so our government had gone surprisingly well in the concessions it has secured. If the agreement is enacted into law and proved beneficial to the nation as a whole it is certain to be extended as time goes on and the two people experience its good effect. If on the other hand, it should prove harmful to the nation as a whole, it could and would be repealed quickly.

D 2. . . . . .

"Every element of the situation is an unanswerable argument for intimate trade relations with Canada. These elements are peculiar. They exist only and exclusively as to Canada and the United States. Therefore, they require a policy as different from that which we apply to other countries as those unique conditions affecting Canada and our selves are different from those affecting other countries and ourselves."

In a later connection Mr. Beveridge said: "We do not need to protect our people from the Canadian people. What we need is to make it easy for Canada to freely buy from us the things she needs and that we produce, instead of making it hard for Canada to do so. What we need is to make it easy for our people to buy from Canada those things which our people need instead of making it hard for them to do so."

Argument was then presented to show that the natural resources of Canada might be depended upon to reduce the cost of living in this country and to replenish the loss suffered by the premature destruction of American resources. After undertaking to demonstrate that the objections to the various items covered in the treaty are trivial, Mr. Beveridge declared them to be of a "hop, skip and jump variety."

"But even if they were valid instead of groundless," he said, "all of them put together are a small matter when compared with getting this fundamental and truly national policy established. The beginning of the policy itself is the great and overshadowing consideration. The beginning of freer trade relations between these two peoples, who are immediate neighbors and who are of one blood, language and religion, is the large phase of this question."

LONG DEBATE OVER TREATY.

Rochester Millers Regard Free Wheat Favorably, But Take No Action.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 9.—The reciprocity agreement with Canada was the subject of a protracted debate at the meeting here yesterday of the executive committee of the New York State Millers Association. Rochester millers regard the prospect of free wheat from Canada favorably, but it was decided to take no action at this time.

TO INCREASE ITS CAPITAL STOCK.

Jamestown Ferry Company to Buy Out Opposition.

Dogs Held Responsible for Decline in Sheep Raising.

[Special despatch to The News.]

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 9.—It was represented in the legislature today that the Jamestown & Newport Ferry Company is desirous to buy out the opposition in the ferry business, in the Saunders line of steamers. This representation comes through the introduction of an act to amend the charter of the company to increase the capital stock from $100,000 to $200,000. In the house the bill incurred in the inauguration of the new state government were passed and ordered paid, and the total suggests that the legislature can be as expensive in being inducted into office as it is afterwards.

Several new bills were introduced and the committee on corporations of the house, of which Mr. Hassard of Newport is chairman, gave evidence that it is attending to business by reporting back a number of measures.

That the sheep of the state are going to the dogs literally was shown by the twenty-fifth annual report of the State Board of Agriculture, which recommends the passage of a number of laws for the benefit of the farming interests of the state. The board asks for an appropriation of $4,500 to carry on its work and advocates the creation of a state dairy instructor, a law providing for a tuberculin test of all cattle, either before or a short time after they are brought into the state; an increased bounty on foxes, an open season on deer or a law providing for compensation to farmers for damages caused by deer. Out of 6,207 head of live stock examined the past year, 493 were condemned and killed. Dogs are held responsible for a decline in sheep raising and more stringent laws on canines are asked. January 1 of this year there were 7,500 sheep in the state, while 20 years ago there were 20,433.

In the senate Senator Duckworth of Charlestown presented the report of the State Board of Agriculture, which was ordered printed.

Senator Munroe of Providence presented the annual report of the commission on the uniformity of legislation in the United States.

Senator Arnold of Westerly, for the committee on finance, reported back, without recommendation, the resolution providing clerks for the militia, charities and corrections and pardons committees. The committee stated that as the resolution carried no appropriation it had nothing to do with it. The law provides that clerks shall receive $500 and $800 a session, according to the decision of the committees. The resolution was placed on the calendar for Tuesday, when there will be a fight, as it is apparent that not only the Democrats but many Republicans are opposed to making this distribution of state funds.

The situation is somewhat complicated, in view of the fact that the committee on militia, which had a clerk last year, has employed George Carmichael of Shamock this year without authority. Senator Champlin of New Shoreham is pushing his brother, William Champlin, for the clerkship of the committee on charities and corrections, and Davis G. Arnold of Providence, a lawyer, is out for the position on the pardons committee. In one place a man is voting and in the others individuals are working hard for the money and many of the legislators find themselves in positions where they feel obliged to vote for the resolution, though they admit that it is wrong.

Senator Munroe of Providence presented an act providing a penalty for husbands who desert their wives and fathers who neglect their children. The penalty is both jail sentence and fine.

Referred to the committee on judiciary.

Senator Munroe also presented an act providing for legislation in Rhode Island whereby wills made outside the state shall be legal here. This is under the uniformity of legislation movement. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

From the calendar was taken and passed the resolution paying A. C. Church $25 for the care of an old fort, and another for the distribution of the thirty first volume of Rhode Island reports.

In the house Mr. Colton of Providence introduced an act extending the time of legal limitation of suits between employe and employer. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

Mr. Shawcross of Providence presented an act providing that employes or servants of a city or town shall not do busines with said municipalities in any other way than that for which they are hired. Referred to the judiciary committee.

Mr. Hassard of Newport, for the committee on corporations, reported back the act increasing the limit of deposits of the Savings Bank of Newport from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Davis of Woonsocket, for the same committee, reported back an amendment to the Pascoag & Providence railway. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Richardson of Providence, for the same committee, reported back the Lymansville company's petition for increase in capital stock. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Fortin of Pawtucket, also for the same committee, reported the amendment to the Royal Weaving Company's charter, which provides for the holding of the annual meetings in Pawtucket instead of Central Falls. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Marshall of Cumberland presented a petition for the passage of an initiative and referendum act. Referred to the committee on legislation.

Mr. Clarke of Jamestown, manager of the Jamestown & Newport Ferry Company, presented a petition for the increase of the capital stock of that company from $100,000 to $200,000. Referred to the committee on corporations.

Mr. West of Providence presented the petition of Owen McMahon, alderman of the Tenth ward, Providence,

NAVARRO'S TROOPS NEAR JUAREZ.

Federals from Chihuahua on Way to Relieve City.

No Change Reported in Position of Orozco's and Alanis's Forces.

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 9.—Unconfirmed reports that General Navarro, who is on his way from Chihuahua at the head of about 1,000 federal troops to relieve Juarez, had encamped at a point about ten miles south of that city, were the only developments in the "war" situation across the border last night. These reports were brought by a brakeman of the Mexican Central Railroad, who declared that he had just returned from the south, where the railroad had been repaired sufficiently to permit two troop trains, carrying Navarro's forces, to reach a point 10 miles below Juarez. No official confirmation could be obtained.

As far as known the insurrecto forces under Orozco and Alanis have made no change in their positions. Alanis was reported 12 miles east of Juarez yesterday. Orozco's forces are entrenched about three miles west of Juarez.

NEW WIRELESS STATIONS.

Signal Corps to Establish Them Between Eagle Pass and Minera.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 9.—Company A, signal corps, from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, under the command of Captain William M. Crolkshank, and an army pack train from West Point, in charge of Packmaster J. W. Hollingsworth, passed through San Antonio last night en route to the border. The signal corps will establish wireless telegraph stations between Eagle Pass and Minera, Texas. The pack train is conveying 64 mules and equipment to the troops centering at Del Rio.

PRESIDENT TAFT AT COLUMBUS.

Unable to be Governor Harmon's Guest While at the Corn Show.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 9.—Governor Harmon's invitation to President Taft to be a guest at the governor's home while the President is here at the Corn Show tomorrow had to be declined, because of the limited time at the disposal of the President. Mr. Taft will arrive at 1:45 over the Pennsylvania road. Troop B, Ohio National Guard, will be his escort while here. Colonel H. L. Berger, with a special detail of Guards officers, will ride alongside the automobile carrying the President and Governor Harmon to the show.

The present arrangement is to have the President address the members of the legislature at 2 o'clock and he will then be taken to the Corn Show and make his speech on reciprocity. The President will go to Oxley hall, Ohio State University, in the afternoon, for a rest, and 8:30 will be taken to Memorial hall as a guest of the Buckeye Republican club. He will leave at 9:45 for Champaign, Ill.

FOR REGULATING FLIGHTS.

Treaty Between Mexico and United States Before State Department.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Possibly it was with an apprehension of what is just coming to pass on the Texas border that Senor De La Barra, the Mexican ambassador, some time ago proposed to Secretary Knox the negotiation of a treaty to regulate the flight of aeroplanes between the United States and Mexico. Secretary Knox was willing to entertain the proposition and as a result a treaty has been drafted, which has received the approval of the Mexican government and is now before the State Department for its action. The ostensible purpose of the Mexican government was to prevent smuggling, which could be carried on in the case of small and exceedingly valuable commodities such as jewels, laces, opium and the like, by aeroplanes, in the absence of regulations, but another very important use of the aeroplane was evidently in mind and that was its possible employment, by revolutionists, in conveying information of the movement of government troops endeavoring to capture rebel forces.

Mexico would not object to the employment of aeroplanes by the United States army, as proposed, but would probably not like the appearance on the border of a number of aeroplanes, such as would be drawn to the proposed exhibition at El Paso, if these machines are to operate over Mexican territory without responsibility to the military authorities. Therefore, it is probable that a protest will be made by the Mexican government against any such unregulated flights.

A NEPHEW TO INTERVENE.

George W. Baker, Mrs. Eddy's Brother's Son, May Claim Estate.

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 8.—The law firm of Taggart, Tuttle, Burroughs & Wyman of Manchester has given notice, in the supreme court here, that February 11 it will file a petition in behalf of George W. Baker of this city, asking permission to intervene in the suit of George W. Glover and J. Foster Eddy against Henry M. Baker, involving the validity of the disposition made by Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy of her estate in her will.

George W. Baker is the son of a deceased brother of Mrs. Eddy and the petition will be based upon the claim that if Mrs. Eddy's gift of $2,000,000 to the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, is found invalid, then George W. Baker will inherit the estate as next of kin, he claiming that both George W. Glover and J. Foster Eddy are barred from their rights of inheritance, because of the terms of the contract into which they entered at the close of the "next friend's" proceedings in 1907.

DENIES USE OF MONEY.

Senator Cullom Says Not a Cent Was Used in His Elections.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Denying that a cent had been spent on his behalf in any of his five elections, Mr. Cullom, senior Senator from Illinois, today vigorously denounced the holding up of his state to scorn before the nation on account of the Lorimer scandal. Mr. Cullom upheld the people of Illinois as being as normal as those of any other state, and said they were quite capable of taking care of their own good name.

Announcing that he took the floor only because of the reflections upon himself and his state in connection with the Lorimer case, the venerable Senator said he had not thought it becoming in him to discuss the Lorimer matter, either publicly or privately.

"When the time comes I shall vote according to the dictates of my conscience," he said. "On the five different occasions when the people of Illinois signally honored me by electing me to the Senate," he continued, "there was not even the slightest suggestion of corruption or wrong-doing in the legislature in connection with my election.

"As a candidate for the legislature, for Congress, for governor and for United States Senator, no one has ever charged that a single dollar was used corruptly to influence any voter for me. I have always been a strict party man and have always received the support of my party. That is all I have to say concerning myself."

TREATY TO STOP SEAL FISHING.

President Sends to Senate Draft of Agreement with Great Britain.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—After several years work the President has at last been able to obtain the assent of the maritime powers whose subjects are engaged in the seal fisheries to an agreement for the regulation of those fisheries that is calculated to replenish the seal herd in Behring sea.

The initial movement was recorded today, when the Senate received from the executive the draft of a treaty negotiated with Great Britain, the effect of which, if ratified, will be to stop sealing completely in Behring sea for an indefinite period of time or until the seal herd shall have become restored to its original number.

This conviction is the forerunner of others to be made with Russia and Japan for the complete protection of seal life in that quarter of the globe.

ABOLISHING CIRCUIT COURTS.

Senate Passes Bill for Codification of Judiciary Laws.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—After almost a year of deliberation, the Senate today passed the bill providing for the codification of the laws relating to the judiciary system of the country. In the main the bill merely re-enacts existing statutes, but it makes one important change, the consolidation of the circuit and district courts of the United States, by which the circuit courts are abolished.

The consolidation provision was the basis of the only serious controversy in today's consideration of the bill. Senator Sutherland said the consolidation would save the government $250,000 a year.

In the House the Parsons Amendment giving the judges of circuit courts the powers and jurisdiction of district court judges within their circuits was adopted.

IMPROVEMENTS AT MONTAUK.

Long Island Railroad Company Acquires Additional Water-front on Fort Pond Bay.

In order to enable his company to meet trans-Atlantic ships at the eastern end of Long Island, Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island Railroad Company, has executed a contract for the purchase of 100 acres of land, thereby acquiring for the road more than a mile of water-front on Fort Pond bay, Montauk. Accompanying the contract were drawings made by the Long Island Railroad engineers calling for five piers, each 1,000 feet long, 125 feet wide and 300 feet apart. The space between these piers will be great enough to permit two of the largest liners to dock at opposite piers at once, a thing impossible at the Chelsea piers in Manhattan, because of the wide beam of the Cunard and White Star ships.

Besides having nearly 24 hours in the delivery of foreign banking mail to Wall Street and ordinary mail to the entire city, the proposed Montauk docks would enable the Grand Trunk Railroad of Canada, by means of its Central Vermont outlet at New London, Conn., to ship Northern and Western freight and mails across Long Island sound, a distance of 25 miles. Through the Cape Cod canal, which is now being constructed, passengers and fast mail from Boston will be enabled to leave that city in the evening and ship for European ports the following morning.

When the Long Island Road double-tracks its Montauk division from Oakdale to Fort Pond bay, it intends to furnish express and fast mail service to the Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan in two and one quarter hours, a saving of a whole hour over the time now required. A bill in Congress to provide for the survey of Fort Pond bay has been favorably reported, and it was said that a bill to establish a port of entry there would be introduced soon.

The United States geodetic surveys show there is a mean low water depth between the proposed railroad piers of 48 feet. The average depth of the water of the bay is 38 feet, and the bottom is clay, with a gravel shore line, providing for excellent anchorage. Each pier is to have two tracks, and passengers, mails and freight may be transferred from the liners and carried to Manhattan without change of cars.

The fact that the new central New York postoffice building is to be one block west of the Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan will make the future distribution of trans-atlantic mail much easier than at present, when at least five transfers must be made. While the purchase of the additional waterfront was considered a confirmation of the report that Montauk Point would be made the trans-atlantic shipping point for New York city, President Peters gave no definite idea as to when the work of building the piers would be undertaken. Through Secretary Woodward, his assistant, it was learned that the White Star, Cunard and Scandinavian lines had inspected the proposed Montauk docks and had expressed the desire to lease piers there if piers were provided.

Mr. Fitzgerald, of the real estate company which holds more than 5,000 acres of land south and west of the projected improvements, said he had been negotiating with German capitalists for the construction of large dry-docks on the west side of the bay.

SUBMARINE SEAL LAUNCHED.

Dreadnought Successfully Floated at Yards of Newport News Shipbuilding Company.

Dreadnought submarine cruiser Seal, which when completed will be the largest and most powerful submarine in the United States navy, was successfully launched Wednesday at the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company. Miss Marjorie Lake, daughter of the inventor of this type of submarine, christened the vessel in the presence of a number of officials of the navy and the building company.

Like her sister ship, the Tuna, under construction at Bridgeport, Conn., and the Turbot, being built at Newport News, the Seal is designed for long ocean cruises without convoy or a tender. She measures over all 161 feet in length, with an extreme beam of 15 feet. Her displacement, when submerged is 525 tons. Six torpedo tubes compose her armament, and her magazines will hold 10 torpedoes. Her cruising radius will be 2,500 knots on the surface. Fourteen knots is her contract speed on the water and 9½ knots her submerged speed.

MODERNIZING BATTLESHIPS.

Secretary Meyer Seeks to Check Excessive Expenditure on Overhauling of Vessels.

Secretary Meyer has made an important ruling relating to the overhauling of ships of war, which will have much effect in promoting economy of administration in the future. Since he has been at the head of the department he has given much attention to the problem of modernizing battleships. Each year there is prepared by the chief constructor, the engineer-in-chief and the chief of ordnance a schedule of alterations necessary in the older battleships to bring them up to date. The expense is considerable, and requires in most instances the withdrawal of the ships from active service. In some cases the cost of modernization has reached nearly $1,000,000. Mr. Meyer is now seeking to check this excessive expenditure.

It is not altogether a military question, despite the wisdom of maintaining the fighting efficiency of battleships. The Secretary has discovered, with the assistance of his aids for material and inspection, that some of the features recommended as necessary may in many cases be omitted from the approved project. He believes, for instance, that it is not necessary to change the main batteries of such a ship as the Brooklyn, and he has taken the stand that the department shall not be led into the mistake made with the New York of modernizing, a huge cost, the main deck battery.

Certain battleships to be destined to go into the second despite improvements, and which as such ships would be largely by inexperienced or unfamiliar with the latest gear, there is no justification for going to much expense on these ships, when, without the expensive renovations, will still possess a fighting value. Mr. Meyer has directed that reports be made to ascertain what may be economically expended in improvement. By this means there will be a check on the tendency to modernize battleships which cannot be brought up to a condition which first line of naval operations. This is an important decision, and represents an innovation radically different from will justify their maintenance in the the practice heretofore followed. It is a direct result of the system now prevailing in the Navy Department, by which all matters of construction or reconstruction pass through the hands of the aid for material.

WORK IS PLAY

[The Economist.]

George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank, is quoted by one of the newspapers as saying: "Relaxations? I don't need any. I enjoy life all the time. It isn't work for me to come to business in a bank. It is a pleasure." There is great value in this utterance to all classes of men and women, old and young.

5,700 MILES AWAY.

San Francisco Wireless Operator Converses with Coast of Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The wireless operator at the station in this city held conversation for an hour with the operator at Choshi Shinosu, on the coast of Japan, 5,700 miles away. The messages were passed across the Pacific with one relay. It is said the performance establishes a new record for wireless work in this quarter of the globe.

The operator communicated with two of the Pacific Mail Company's steamers, the Manchuria, which was 3,295 miles away, bound from Hong Kong, and the Korea, which was on her way to this port and about 70 miles nearer. Both vessels took his message to the Japanese station, asking for the weather report at Choshi Shinosa and both received the reply and relayed it. The dots and dashes came distinctly and without interruption.

VOTES FOR KANSAS WOMEN.

State Senate Passes House Bill for Constitutional Amendment.

TOPEKA, Ks., Feb. 8.—The Kansas senate this afternoon passed a resolution to submit the amendment to the constitution giving women the right to vote in all elections. The vote was 27 to 12. The resolution had previously passed the house.

OVERHEARS MESSAGE OF HER FATHER'S DEATH.

Sitting at the switchboard in the telephone exchange at Chester, N. Y., Miss Etta Sanders, an operator, heard a message going over the wire telling of an accident three miles away in which two men had been killed. She was interested, and listening to the message was horrified to learn that her father, Edgar Sanders, a track superintendent for the Lehigh & Hudson railroad, had been ground to pieces under a locomotive. The girl bravely held her post until she was relieved by another operator.

FOR A HARBOR OF REFUGE.

Importance Urged Upon Senate Commerce Committee of Improvements at Point Judith.

The importance and necessity of a landing place, lights and a life saving station at the Point Judith harbor of refuge is emphasized by a petition sent to the United States Senate commerce committee favoring such improvements. The petition is signed by representatives of all the marine insurance companies, transportation companies and other coastwise interests and has been secured through the efforts of the New York board of trade and transportation. It requests that the Senate commerce committee may take such action as is necessary to have provision made through the sundry civil bill at the present session of Congress for the construction of a landing place. The signatures to the petition represent large interests that appreciate the value of the Point Judith harbor of refuge and the valuable office it fills for the maritime interests of the entire Atlantic coast. It also points out that the one essential thing which is still lacking to make the harbor of refuge one in reality is a landing place and means of communication with the shore.

The petition simply emphasizes the findings and views of President Taft, who, as Secretary of War, made a thorough examination of the needs of the Point Judith harbor, and embodied his views in a report made to Congress. This report was written pursuant to provisions contained in the act of Congress of March 2, 1907, which directed an examination to be made to determine what further improvements, if any, should be made in the harbor. The Secretary of War in his letter discussed in detail the needs of the harbor of refuge, and made several recommendations with reference thereto. In pursuance of his letter, all these recommendations of the Secretary of War, excepting one, have been provided for in previous or pending legislation.

The recommendation which has been thus far neglected was for the building of a landing place in the harbor of refuge, and the Secretary of War gave more attention and consideration to this subject in his letter, above referred to, than to all his other recommendations. In his letters to the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, dated February 28, 1905, he said of this matter: "But there is not the slightest doubt that, in order to make the harbor of refuge useful as a harbor of refuge, both lights and a life saving station, and a means of communicating with the shore for the purpose of obtaining supplies and of giving aid to vessels in distress in the harbor should be included in the harbor of refuge."

In this connection the Secretary gave at some length the history of the so-called "Lewis pier" at the Delaware breakwater and pointed out the advantages which had been derived from that pier, as stated in the report of the chief of engineers for 1878, and also referred to the precedent thus established by Congress "for the construction by the War Department of a landing place in the Point Judith harbor of refuge," and, further, said: "There is no doubt that the Delaware bay harbor of refuge and its landing pier is properly to be considered a national work in the highest sense." In conclusion he said: "There is every reason to believe that a corresponding improvement and equal facilities at Point Judith would prove a work of importance and value to the maritime and commercial interests operating in that locality."

The Secretary of War, in referring to the Delaware breakwater pier, said that it was constructed pursuant to an appropriation made by Congress "in the sundry civil act of May 15, 1870," and in his letter to the Secretary of the Treasury he suggested making "a request to Congress to include in the appropriate place in the sundry civil bill sums sufficient to make the amount already expended for the Point Judith harbor of refuge available for purposes for which it was originally intended."

The petition is as follows: "Your petitioners, the undersigned, respectfully beg to commend to your consideration the suggestions of the Secretary of War in 1908 for the proposed landing place in the national harbor of refuge at Point Judith, R. I., and earnestly request that said recommendation may be referred to the commerce committee of the Senate, so that that committee may take such action as necessary to have provision made through the sundry civil bill at the present session of Congress for the construction of a landing place in the Point Judith harbor of refuge."

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Dr. Burton W. Storrs and Mr. Alfred J. Mott spent Wednesday in Providence.

Miss Edna C. Almy, who has been caring for her sick friend, Miss Sisson of New Bedford, was called back by sickness at her own home and arrived Wednesday. She left Miss Sisson very much improving.

Father Joseph is supplying the place of Father Rooney during the absence of the latter in Florida.

The Friends' Wednesday evening prayer meeting was held with Mrs. George S. Sherman.

Miss Rachel Peckham, who has been for some weeks with Mrs. Charles Sherman on Mitchell's lane, has returned home.

Mr. George DesChamps of Bowenville, with his little son Robert, has been guest of his sister, Mrs. Mary Peckham.

Mr. Charles Grinnell has not yet cut his ice. It is now more than six inches thick, has been marked off, and will soon be harvested.

Mrs. Fred Wilkinson and her daughter Grace, of Newport, have been guests of the former's father, Mr. Richard Bright.

Mrs. P. P. Conway spent Tuesday in Providence, guest of Miss Emily D. Peckham.

Bishop Perry was in town Wednesday several hours, on business.

Mr. and Mrs. James Riley of Taunton have started for Florida for a visit of several weeks, taking with them their niece, Miss Mary Riley of this town.

Mrs. Edward R. Ayler, who has been sick with neuralgia for more than a month, part of the time confined to bed and under the care of a physician, is better.

THE MARIETTA TO STOP AT NEW YORK.

Gunboat Marietta, whose sailing from Key West, Florida, was reported to the Navy Department Wednesday, will go direct to New York for a stay of 10 days before proceeding to the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard, her ultimate destination. It is pointed out that the release of the Marietta by the Florida quarantine officials offers conclusive evidence that the gunboat did not have yellow fever on board, as was originally suspected.

TAFT OPPOSED TO AEROPLANES.

International Aviators Offer Seven Machines for the Use of the Army on Texas Border.

The War Department has received from the international aviators, through Alfred J. Moisant, an offer to supply seven aeroplanes and aviators to manage them for the use of the army on the Texas border. General Wood, chief of staff, has replied that the offer will be taken under consideration. Probably some of the machines will be used for scouting purposes now that the Senate has made immediately available a part of the appropriation for aeroplanes for the army. The international aviators have been giving aviation exhibitions in the South recently, and now are at San Antonio, Texas, so that their machines easily could be taken to the boundary.

General Bliss, commanding the Department of California, has reported to General Wood that five young army officers have been so well instructed by Glenn Curtiss in the use of biplanes at his Los Angeles training school that they can safely undertake the management of any aeroplane that may be needed for use in Texas.

President Taft is opposed to having the United States spend much money for aeroplanes and to taking the chances of losing army officers through accidents, while aviation is in such an embryo stage so far as its connection with actual warfare is concerned. He believes in waiting until it is more certain that aviators can be of assistance to the army; and as for the experiments to be conducted with aeroplanes along the Mexican border, he thinks that it will be hard for an aviator 400 feet or more up in the air to distinguish very clearly just what is the situation below. The President thinks it would be better to let other countries do more of the preliminary work in discovering the use of aeroplanes in war, and that there will be plenty of time later on for the United States to garner the harvest of good results, if such there are, which other countries discover.

TO FIX RESPONSIBILITY.

Naval Court of Inquiry's Criticism on Sinking of Monitor Puritan in Meyer's Hands.

Criticism regarding the sinking of monitor Puritan after she had been used as a target for high explosive tests last November is reported to be in the findings of the naval court of inquiry appointed to fix responsibility for the sinking of the vessel. The report of the court is in the hands of Secretary Meyer, who will not discuss it until its disposition has been decided upon.

It is said to be certain that the board did not condemn any officer for making the test, because it was done under precise direction of Congress. The test was conducted with ordinary precautions and it is now for Secretary Meyer to determine whether there was sufficient exercise of ordinary judgment based upon preceding tests.

DWIGHT ISSUES CHALLENGE.

United States Lawn Tennis Association Desirous of Securing the Davis Trophy.

The challenge on the part of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, for the Dwight F. Davis international cup was issued by cable Wednesday by Dr. James Dwight of Boston, president of the association. At the same time a challenge was also forwarded by mail.

Dr. Dwight said the issuing of the challenge was in accordance with a vote taken at the last meeting of the national association, when it was decided that American tennis players should make another effort to regain the trophy. He said he did not know how good a tennis team could be sent to Australia, but the association is desirous of the trophy being brought to the United States.

PERSONALS.

..Announcement is made of the resignation of Charles Sears Baldwin as professor of rhetoric at Yale University, to accept a professorship in English at Columbia University. Professor Baldwin, who has been a member of the Yale faculty 13 years, is a native of New York city and a graduate of Columbia, at which institution he was a tutor in English before going to Yale.

....Robert Carson has been appointed by President Taft immigration inspector of the port of Perth Amboy, New Jersey, at a salary of $1 a year. He is also collector of the port, which is much more remunerative. The inspectorship was formerly a nominal position, filled by the health officer, but five immigrants had to be passed on last year, and the health officer has resigned.

....Dr. Owen Copp, for 12 years executive officer of the Massachusetts state board of insanity, has resigned to accept the charge of the Pennsylvania Hospital for the insane at Philadelphia. Dr. Copp is credited with the majority of the reforms instituted in the Massachusetts insane hospitals during the past 10 or a dozen years. He is 54 years old and a graduate of Dartmouth College. His professional career has been devoted almost wholly to a study of insanity, and he has served in various capacities in most of the important insane hospitals in the state.

....David Lloyd-George, the British chancellor of the exchequer, who is at Naples, and his friends refuse to discuss the condition of his health, merely saying that he is taking a much needed rest. Reports are in circulation, however, that the chancellor is suffering from nervous prostration, and that his condition is not improving, which might eventually force him to resign his portfolio. Chancellor Lloyd-George left London January 24 for a fortnight's stay in Italy, according to despatches on that date, to recuperate from throat troubles. A London despatch February 6 said the chancellor would probably remain at Naples another fortnight and perhaps longer, as his throat trouble was proving unexpectedly obstinate.

....Frederick Archibald Vaughan Campbell, third Earl Cawdor, is dead. He was born February 13, 1847, and was distinguished in official and business affairs, his public posts including that of first lord of the admiralty, to which he was appointed in 1905. Before he succeeded to the earldom he was a popular member of the House of Commons for 14 years, sitting for Carmarthenshire. Subsequently defeated for Parliament he retired from politics and became chairman of the Great Western Railway (1895-1905) and devoted his energies to great business interests. He was appointed an ecclesiastical commissioner in 1880 and first lord of the admiralty under the Balfour ministry in 1905. In 1868 the earl married Edith Georgiana, eldest daughter of the late Christopher Turner of Stoke Rochford. His heir is his eldest son, Viscount Emlyn.

A Knitted Cap.

These knitted caps were early seen at the New York Horse Show on young women who came in town in motor cars. The caps were first worn at the aviation meet in October, at Belmont Park, and now nearly every woman under 30 has one. The caps come in all white, red, brown and a deep hunter's green, and also in combinations of color.

THE FIREMAN'S REPORT.

[C. R. Maloy, in Topeka Capital.]

We're only a bunch of loafers
Sittin' round all day,
Ogilin' passin' women,
Drawin' our easy pay,
Ward-heelin' for the bosses,
Helpin' them get the gruft,
We're a lovely crowd of boozers;
They're rakin' us fore and aft.

Good Lord! there's the signal ringin'
Steady, boys! let 'er go.
We're off—my God! it's a big one—
The chief's here already, so!
"Follow me, boys!" he's shoutin',
You'd think he was leadin' a dance.
Our chief don't give no instructions,
He goes first and takes his chance.

Of course, us lazy loafers
Would follow him right thro' hell;
That's what we're paid for doin',
We know that all too well.
Good God! the wall's a-crackin',
Save yourselves, if you can,
There's a crash, she's tumblin'!
They're crushed, every one to a man.

Now take up your subscriptions,
Show us the depth of your grief;
Let the papers blaze with petitions
For money for our relief.
Turn out in sad processions
To follow our charred remains;
We're heroes indeed for the moment—
The fire has burnt out our stains.

We're only a bunch of loafers,
Sittin' around all day,
Ogilin' the passin' women,
Drawin' our easy pay;
But when the fire's a-ragin',
When hell in the city is loose,
We become for the day the brave firemen,
They've quit givin' us the deuce.

Cover the chief's coffin with flowers,
And dry up his orphans' tears;
Hang all sorts of contraptions
On the other poor devils' biers.
We're thankful, friends, for your pity,
While your hero-worship lasts,
But we'd prefer a little square dealin'
'Midst the reformer's trumpet blasts.

FANCIES.

And for vast snowy fields explore;
And some of us stay home at ease

GOETHALS FALLS ON THE ICE.

Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, newly arrived from the tropics, slipped on the icy pavements in Washington and fell heavily on his right shoulder, suffering a painful sprain. It gave him considerable inconvenience, but he was able to be about the Capitol.

"A nice cold reception for a tropical engineer," remarked the colonel, when asked how he was getting along. "I'd forgotten the art of snow walking down there on the isthmus."

NATIONAL GUARD COMPENSATION

General Wood Favors Passage of Steenerson Militia Bill Without Proposed Amendment.

Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, has conferred with Chairman Steenerson of the House committee on militia regarding the Steenerson militia pay bill. The bill purposes to add pay for drill duty to the other compensation now authorized for the National Guard, including encampment duty and service when called out by the governor of a state.

The War Department proposed an amendment which imposed rather rigorous restrictions on the militiamen by requiring their inspection by army officers, making them agree to serve two years if called upon, and if they refused by making the refusal punishable by court-martial on the charge of desertion.

The committee has favored the bill, but refused the proposed amended measure to National Guard interests which objected, pointing out, for instance, that the President might call them into service, but if the governor failed to communicate the call they, under the terms of the measure, would still be liable to punishment for desertion. General Wood substantially favored the bill without the amendment rather than jeopardize the measure.

The committee may not report the bill in this Congress.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—
Cure all forms of kidney suffering.
Newport testimony proves it.

Mrs. Sarah E. Freeman, 21 Warner St., Newport, R. I., says: "My nephew was more or less troubled by backache for some time. Often it kept him awake at night and in the morning he arose feeling stiff and lame. In addition to backache, other difficulties existed which left no doubt that his kidneys were affected, and wholly responsible for his suffering. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, he procured a box at Wright & Hay's Drug Store and their use brought results that proved them to be a remedy of great merit."

ACCUMULATION OF BONDED SPIRITS.

In discussing some preliminary returns of the internal revenue office it was suggested in these columns that an increase in the withdrawal of taxpaid spirits from bonded warehouse last year as compared with the year before did not necessarily prove an increase of consumption. Whiskey is cheaply produced; nearly all the cost is the tax, and the payment of the tax can be deferred for eight years from the time of distillation. Consequently there is a continual temptation, which the distillers do not resist much, to produce more than consumption requires, trusting to an improvement in the business or luck or something else to enable them to market the spirits at a profit before the tax falls due. Especially when corn is cheap there is a great spurt in distilling, and the producers hope to secure a relatively high price when corn is dear. Apart from the tax it costs, say, 15 or 18 cents to make a gallon of spirits. An advance of five cents a gallon isn't much, but it is a third, or nearly that, of the cost of production. So distilling is a perpetual gamble.

Ultimately the eight years expire and spirits must be taken out of bond and the tax paid, whether or not there is a market for them. Figures from the internal revenue show that there is now in bonded warehouses 330,000,000 gallons of whiskey, or at least of spirits. That is a supply for three or four years if not another drop were distilled. A year ago there was only 240,000,000 gallons, showing an increase of 90,000,000 gallons. The internal revenue office figures the net increase of bonded spirits at 104,000,000 gallons by a process which a brief despatch from Washington does not make clear.

The editors reasonably attribute the great production to the low price of corn, but in view of the long bonded period and the opportunities of profit by speculating in over-distillation when corn is cheap, it is apparent that there is no necessary connection between the amount of spirits withdrawn from bonded warehouse and the amount consumed in the same year.

LEAVING THE COUNTRY FOR THE CITY.

People who leave comfortable homes in town or village, or even remote suburbs, for what they consider the higher culture of the life in the big cities should think over the matter well and weigh it from all points before deciding to do so. The chances are that they will secure very little for the sacrifice of close and life-long contacts, the freedom of life in the open and the social atmosphere which obtains in small places, where everybody knows everybody else and the community is more like one large family than is possible anywhere outside of village or country life. In large cities next-door neighbors live as total strangers for more years than one cares to remember, and the popular thing is changing all the time, so that often one hardly knows whether the family living next door this month will be there for a few weeks only or for a few years, a condition which makes close friendship and companionship or even social acquaintance almost or quite impossible.

There are many lonely hours in any large city for a sociable family which has been used to having friends and neighbors within easy distance. The long ride in cars or carriage makes friendly calls out of the question, and the amount of telephoning or letter writing will give the pleasure found in heart-to-heart talks which one can have in a few minutes in the smaller places. To be sure, there are advantages which many think offset the social life and the nearness of friends. There are art exhibitions, splendid libraries, new plays, the latest and best music, the big shops with their tempting displays and fascinating tea rooms and restaurants; but it takes a great deal of time to hunt up all the free places and those with limited means can afford to patronize high-priced ones only on rare occasions, if at all. Things which they could well afford in village or country mount high in price when all things are taken into consideration in the city.

Perhaps the ideal life is to be found by localities within reaching distance of the city's attractions, in places where amusement is found by co-operation and generally in the form of some home affair, where friends and neighbors meet and are as one family. Contentment is said to be a virtue and this is never more true than where people are satisfied with the simple life of country or village, and are not craving for the life in the big cities which so often involves loneliness and sacrifice of friends, time and money, and with all its advantages does not bring the happiness which they knew in their old home.

These advantages and disadvantages of giving up the comfortable home in the country with its freedom from restrictions for possibly a small flat in the city, hemmed in on all sides by other families, just for the sake of the greater culture which it is thought a big city can give, create a question which needs much consideration before a decision is made. It would seem that the wise are they who are content to remain where they are, accepting the good things which come to them in the way of advantages and culture and sharing them with their friends in their homes, rather than to take up life in the city and leave friends, neighbors and social life behind. No advantages, however great which one can find can take the place of a happy and contented home with friends good and true around one, and this is seldom realized in the life in the big cities but is common in small villages or towns, while the real meaning of culture is often better known in these places than in the bigger communities.

THE STARS AND STRIPES AND THE RED FLAG.

The faculty of the University of Chicago has been tolerably quiet for some time, and it is the University of Rochester which now contributes a professor who feels that he has been sent into the world to make it sit up and take notice.

Professor Shedd has been making an address before a civic club in a public schoolhouse, and explained how much nobler is the significance of the red flag of socialism than that of the Stars and Stripes, which are the emblem of merely one nation divided off from all others, while the socialist flag stands for the universal brotherhood of man. This "parlor socialism," so severely rapped in a "Letter to the Rising Generation" in the Atlantic Monthly, has long been tedious and now is becoming disgusting. The red flag is the emblem of the militant socialists, whom that dilletante socialist, H. G. Wells, dislikes almost as much as opponents of all forms of socialism do. There is abundant evidence that the red flag stands for robbery and murder, violence, class envy and hatred; there is no evidence whatever that it stands for all the lofty, beautiful and altruistic things of which Professor Shedd thinks he is thinking.

The mayor and the school authorities are of course indignant that a speech in advocacy of socialism, and one in which the emblem of our nationality was disparagingly compared with the emblem common to socialists and anarchists, should have been made in a public schoolhouse, and they intimate that Professor Shedd cannot make any more speeches in buildings belonging to the city. It is not unreasonable, however, to ask what the University of Rochester thinks about it. There is an idea, sedulously cultivated by professors themselves, that no professor is to be restrained from expressing any sort of opinion on any subject, because that would be an invasion of the "liberty of learning," but the man who desires to overturn the social order might properly be asked to carry on his work in his individual capacity. The community has a right to say something about the men under whose influence college students are to spend four years.

Though President Taft is optimistic about the fate of the Canadian reciprocity agreement by Congress at its present session, he is prepared, it is said, to call an extra session immediately following the fourth of March. There is little doubt that the measure will be approved by the House, but there is a fear that the Senate, with its slower methods, may not reach a vote in the remaining three weeks of the session. The President is much in earnest in his belief that the assurances exchanged between Canada and the United States, whereby each government engages to do its utmost to have the reciprocity agreement ratified at once, will make it incumbent upon him to call an extra session if the agreement fails.

"While there is little indication of a break in the deadlock between the Democratic members of the New York legislature on the Senatorial question, the talk of a compromise candidate has been resumed and the name of Judge Alton W. Parker is prominently mentioned. The Democrats of New York would honor themselves by electing Judge Parker, and he would honor the state in the Senate. With Elihu Root and Judge Parker as the state's representatives, New York would have two of the ablest men in that body.

Howard Chandler Christy, a well known artist, has made a sketch of the battle of San Juan hill for an encyclopaedia, and has left out the figure of Theodore Roosevelt. He says the colonel was not at the battle of San Juan proper, but he and his Rough Riders were three quarters of a mile away during the charge, attacking Kettle Hill. Are all our treasured traditions to be refuted? Everybody has been led to believe that Colonel Roosevelt and the Rough Riders were the whole thing, or the only real thing, at the battle.

Dr. Tanner, the famous fuster, is about to try it again, in spite of his 81 years. He proposes to exceed his former efforts by going 50 days without food and professes to be confident that he will succeed. He says he will try to show all Americans a way to settle once and for all the Beef Trust and the high cost of living.

After years of fighting the friends of a parcels post have won a material victory. The Senate committee has voted to put in the postoffice appropriation bill a clause setting aside $50,000 to be used to establish an experimental service. The trial postal savings banks have worked so well that the system will be greatly extended, and it is expected that an experimental parcels post service will prove equally successful.

It is very possible that more care can be exercised in clearing the granolithic sidewalks of packed snow and ice. Of course one "cannot remove ice with a feather duster," but with due precautions the walks will look better in the spring and last much longer than if no care is used at this season.

San Francisco evidently has the Panama exposition practically assured.

Spring is coming. The strawberry crop in Texas is being marketed.

"MAN SIGNIFIES A THINKING ANIMAL.

You are not a man simply because you are a featherless biped. You may class yourself with the genius homo, yet etymologically you may not be a man unless you possess something more than the physical form of that genus. To be a real man you must think, and that makes a normal working brain necessary. You must be able to wish and to be able to dwell on things in your mind. It is the power of thinking that gave you the name "man." The moment man was able to call himself a "man" he was entitled to the name, with a specific meaning attached to it, proved that he was a man. He was thinking.

More than some dozen thousand years ago our Aryan ancestors found that they were thinking animals, and to express the idea of such a condition they coined a sound that is identical with our "man." Following this root which signified to think, they had the somewhat similar root "madh," meaning to learn. Through all of the centuries, from before the dawn of history, this sound, "man," has remained in the tongues of the Aryan language, suffering little change through the centuries, and is used today as it was then. This exact word "man" has been preserved by our Hindoo brother in his Sanskrit, and it means to think and to understand. He has it in his Vedic literature as "manus," meaning a man. It became the Latin "mens," signifying mind and from that source came our "mind." In Latin it also became "mas," meaning a male.

"Man" came directly to the English through the Anglo-Saxon "mann" and also "mon." In the Icelandic, Swedish, Danish and German we have it without material change in sound, always meaning the same thing. In the entire family the root has remained, signifying as it did in the beginning—a thinking animal.

SIGNALS FOR DANGER ARE YELLOW.

Many persons who have noticed the bright yellow lights on the New York Central Railroad's viaduct in Park Avenue, New York, have been wondering because of the change, as red lights were formerly used on all railroads to indicate danger. Was it due to the fact that yellow is a more effective color and is more clearly seen by persons with dim vision or those suffering from color blindness? That has nothing at all to do with the case, as one of the station agents of the road explained.

"The explanation of why yellow lights are now used to indicate danger ahead is a very simple one, and when it is understood everybody wonders why it was never thought of before," said the agent. "Take, for instance, the old red light signal. If through stormy weather or in case of some unforeseen emergency the glass was broken, the white light would predominate, and instead of indicating danger to the approaching train it would give the engine driver the right of way, because it would be a white light. Now the signals are yellow for danger and green for a clear track.

"Should the glass covering the yellow signal be at all tampered with by some malicious person, or should the glass be broken in any way, the signal would indicate a white light. It would be the same way with the green signal. Now, as white lights have been abolished for signalling purposes, the engine driver would know at once that something was wrong if he saw the signal shining white, and he would bring his train to a stop. So, you see, the idea in changing the color of the signals is an excellent one for the safety of the passengers."

ROOSEVELT'S INTEREST IN PROGRESSIVE CHRISTIANITY.

Theodore Roosevelt, writing to Senator Dix Smith, a fellow-member in the New York Assembly and an acquaintance since 1883, has accepted an invitation to speak in Reno April 3, and in a characteristic letter says: "Dear Smith: I was mighty glad to get your letter. I shall come to Reno. I expect to arrive from San Francisco Monday, April 3, at 9:55 A. M., and to leave at 12:45 midnight for Portland, via Oakland. I just threw up my hands when I heard from you finally. Good for Senator Flanigan. Tell him how pleased I am about the part he took in erecting the Young Men's Christian Association building.

"Interested though I am in progressive politics, I am even more interested in what I may call progressive Christianity—that is, in having Catholic and Protestant join in standing on a square ethical basis. We have got to be against the man who is a crook, without any regard to whether he is a Catholic or Protestant, and for the honest man, equally whether he is a Catholic or whether he is a Protestant, and we must not let the bigots on either side bring any trouble to us in America."

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Fire and Smoke in Butler Exchange, Providence, Create a Panic.

Possibly Fatal Runaway Near Westerly—Purchase of Harbor Frontage Land.

Scores of women went into hysterics and became panic-stricken when the cry of fire was heard in the Butler Exchange building, Providence, Wednesday evening. The blaze was not dangerous, but starting on the third floor, under the classrooms of the Rhode Island Commercial School, it filled the top floors with smoke which drove the 200 students out of the rooms. Smoke pouring from the windows and doors on the third floor was seen by a man on the street who turned in an alarm. The firemen had been in the building several minutes before a young woman attending the school on the upper floor noticed that the classroom was being filled with smoke. She left the room quietly to investigate and saw the firemen running up the stairs. She returned to the room and told her companions that the place was on fire. In a moment all was confusion. The young women ran to the elevator while the men and boys made their way down the stairway. The elevator men stood at their posts and made several trips through the thick smoke. The students gathered on the street floor and waited until the blaze had been extinguished, after which they returned up stairs for their hats and coats. The fire was in room 338, occupied by dressmakers. Several expensive gowns were destroyed, but the blaze was confined to that room, although the entire building was filled with dense, thick smoke.

Startled by the skidding of the wheels into a ditch, two big Western horses, attached to a heavy lumber wagon, bolted on Berry's Hill at Westerly Wednesday afternoon, throwing their driver in such a way that a wheel passed over and crushed his left arm. The horses continued down the steep decline and smashed into a buggy in which Mrs. Clark Brown and her son Albert were driving. The buggy was demolished and Mrs. Brown was thrown out, and suffered internal injuries from which it is feared she may not recover. Her son was painfully cut and bruised. The scene of the accident is on the Potter Hill road, about a mile north of the centre of Westerly, and the hill is one of the steepest in the vicinity. The lumber wagon was laden with about two tons of fertilizer, and this weight added force to the impact against the buggy. The horses ran half a mile after striking the latter vehicle, and brought up against a stone wall after distributing the load along the highway.

Deeds were filed in Providence Wednesday afternoon, transferring a large tract of land on the harbor front near Sassafras point from the Associate Realty Company to the city. The price paid was $63,620. The city now owns all the water front from the grounds of the Providence Gas Company to the end of Field's point, and has a total water frontage of about 2,000 feet. The new purchase gives a frontage of about 1,200 feet. Mayor Fletcher, in commenting on the purchase last night, said: "At a meeting of the committee on engineer's department the promise of the city to the federal government to build a retaining sea wall at Field's point was discussed, and it was decided that the plan would be of more value to the city and would provide wharf facilities if the adjoining property could be acquired. When the project of improving the harbor is completed the city will be in a position to offer to vessels a wharf at which to unload. It will also allow for an extension, if it is necessary, to the sewage system and other public works, as the city's population increases." The tract purchased contains 1,451,975 square feet or about 35 acres. Its purchase was made from the $450,000 appropriation recently authorized for harbor improvements.

Hundreds of dollars worth of valuable patterns and drawings which it will take years to replace, and some of which it will be impossible to replace at any cost, were entirely consumed in a fire Wednesday which gutted the upper story of the office building of the Providence Steel and Iron Company. The building is of brick and two stories in height. The blaze evidently started on the upper floor, although from what cause is yet to be determined. It swept rapidly, practically cleaning out the draughting room, with its files of invaluable drawings, and then gutted the templet, or pattern room. In this there was considerable valuable machinery used in the construction of the templets.

David H. Hill, colored, said to be 100 years old, was found dead in a chair in a room of an attic in Providence Wednesday. The old man lay down for his afternoon siesta and was quickly stricken, death being due to natural causes. Mr. Hill for years had been one of the fixtures of Hoyle square and one of its picturesque characters. He was known as the man with the coins, as he was in the habit of going to the square daily with his breast covered with medals and old coins.

Arrangements have been made for a patriotic service at Brown University on Washington's birthday. The day has so long been disregarded by American colleges that several institutions are now resuming recitations on that day. It is felt at Brown that either the day ought to be marked by patriotic observance or regular college work should continue. This year Brown will make an innovation by having a service in Sayles Hall on the morning of February 22. Some speaker will be appointed on behalf of the University, music will be furnished by the university choir and the main address will be delivered by Rev. Edward F. Sanderson, formerly of Providence, and now of Brooklyn. The Sons of the American Revolution and the Daughters of the American Revolution will co-operate with the university, and the officers of the state and city will be invited to be present and participate. It is hoped that this university service will establish a precedent for the future and lead to a more general observance of Washington's birthday in the city and state.

The Rhode Island Citizens' Historical Association is celebrating today the two hundred and eighteenth anniversary of the landing of Roger Williams at Nantucket, in February, 1643. The feature of the exercises is an address by Professor Horatio D. Knox of the Normal School.

Postponed Lecture on "Shadows of a Great City" and Meeting of the Paradise Club.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The postponed lecture, the third in the winter course at the Methodist Episcopal Church, entitled "The Shadows of a Great City," was given Wednesday evening by the pastor, Rev. Clayton E. Delamater. Notwithstanding the fact that the snow had again begun to fall about 7 o'clock, there was an attendance of about 70.

The subject portrayed the actualities and possibilities of the poor in New York to become good or bad citizens. Opening with street scenes in the poorer sections and views within the walls of foundling and orphan asylums, the fortunes of two baby boys were followed. One, yielding to the constant temptations, became a tough, a drunkard, a thief, a murderer, and was buried in a nameless unknown grave; the other, with an equal chance, chose to utilize the many advantages offered for the lower classes for advancement in a big city, and rose steadily from an industrious frugal bootblack to become the head overseer in one of the city's largest factories. The darker side of the picture showed the frequent saloon, the 10-cent lodging houses, the race track and betting stands, the police courts, the Tombs, Blackwell's island, the potter's field; while the brighter side of life in the lower walks presented views of the Newsboys' Home, street preaching by missionaries, night schools, the trades school, a vacation in the country through the Fresh Air Fund, the free reading room, Central Park, improved tenement-houses, and the church.

The fact was emphatically brought out that what each individual may become lies largely in the hands of that person, for while temptations are many in all walks of life the advantages offered were never so many or so helpful as today. The slides were nearly all tinted and numbered 91.

The Paradise Club was entertained by Mrs. John H. Peckham at her home off Wapping road Wednesday afternoon. The subject, "The Growth of the United States," was continued under the topic, "The Period of Weakness, 1789-1815. This included the inauguration of Washington and his administration, and the condition of the country through the war of 1812. The subject was well presented by Mrs. John Nicholson. Refreshments were served by the hostess and the last half-hour devoted to the commencement of the second new book in the club library, "The Siege of the Seven Suitors," by Meredith Nicholson. The president of the Oliphant Club was a guest of the afternoon.

The report that Mr. Howard B. Peckham had leased the farm of Mr. Rostcom S. Peckham on Green End avenue was incorrect.

An instructive free lecture on China was given at the Berkeley parish house Wednesday evening and was illustrated by about 100 slides. The talk was given by Mr. Harold N. Arrowsmith, one of the masters at St. George's School, and was presented in an interesting manner. The lantern was operated by electricity and was in charge of young men from the school. Owing to the storm, and the conflicting lecture at the Methodist Episcopal Church, the attendance was small, about 30, but the audience expressed much appreciation.

MANY MEETINGS AT THE CITY HALL.

There has been some activity this week at the City Hall, despite the fact that the Committee of Twenty-Five came near being frozen Tuesday evening. The sub-committee on building law met Monday evening, as did the Board of Aldermen, the sub-committee on Board of Health Tuesday afternoon, the Board of Aldermen and the full committee of Twenty-Five Tuesday evening. The committee on new police station site Wednesday evening, the Board of Aldermen and the Committee of Twenty-Five meet tonight, and the committee on the Councilman J. A. Barker case Friday night. No notice has yet been received of a meeting for Saturday, but there is still time.

The Board of Aldermen will meet early in order to have its business disposed of before the Committee of Twenty-Five meets. This committee has three sub-committee reports ready for action—fire department, school department and Board of Health. If these can be disposed of this evening the committee will be well along in its work.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity:—Snow or rain tonight or Friday; falling temperature Friday; moderate variable winds, becoming northwesterly by Friday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The slight depression noted yesterday in western Pennsylvania has apparently passed eastward, accompanied by precipitation throughout the eastern half of the country, in the form of rain in southern districts and snow in northern sections. The weather in the western half of the country is fair and generally clear. A slight depression exists this morning in northern Michigan and another of even less intensity covers the eastern Gulf states. The large area of high pressure in the west is now central in Nebraska. The temperature changes during the past 24 hours have been slight. In New York at 8 a. m. it was 30, Washington 2, Jacksonville 62, St. Louis 30, Chicago 24, Kansas City 30, Des Moines 20, St. Paul 12, Denver 18, San Francisco 44 and Portland, Oregan 34.

TO GO TO THE PARADE CORNER.

Hall & Lyon Company Will Buy Out the Curley Drug Store.

That and the Stacy Shop Adjoining Will Have an Up-to-Date Establishment.

Papers will be signed Friday for the ... of the Morris M. Curley drug store ... the Hall & Lyon company. Mr. Curley's lease has two more years to run ... It was necessary for this sale to be accomplished for the big company to ... possession of the corner, on which it has looked with covetous eyes for some time. With the store at the Parade corner it is the purpose to unite the one now occupied by Stacy ... to fit up an up-to-date and showy store which will take the place of the present place of business at the head of Government Landing.

The way in which the store will be fitted out has already been planned. The ... side on the Parade will be of plate glass and within will be a soda ... of the latest construction, 35 ... In addition to the drug department there will be the latest arrangements for cigar, candy and photograph departments. Much reconstruction work will be necessary and the fitting of the store will be elaborate along the line followed by this corporation in arranging to catch the eye of the public.

... VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES.

The vaudeville acts at the Bijou Theatre consist of Lavendar, Richardson & Company, in a comedy sketch ... in Newport for the first time, entitled "Brady's Boy," and illustrated ... with duet choruses by Mr. Lafayette, bass, and Mr. Conroy, tenor.

"His Last Parade," one of the feature pictures, is a story of a veteran of the Civil war, who rose from a sick bed to take part in a Grand Army parade, which proved to be his last. During the picture is given a reproduction of the Grand Army parade in Atlantic City last summer. The photography is so distinct that different persons can readily be distinguished. There was a regiment from Rhode Island in that parade and also men from Newport. The other pictures are "Where the Wind Blows," a story of ..., with good scenic effects; "The Baby Fortune Hunters," in which appear two child actors; "The Gorges of the Bourne, France," an outdoor picture presenting views of the picturesque gorges along the Bourne, France, and a comedy entitled "A Mix in Masks."

STRUCK BY A SNOW SLIDE.

Wednesday afternoon a passer-by on Thames street stood for a moment in front of Hermann's south window and looked in. It was the right moment and he selected the right spot. No delay was made by the snow, which just about that time decided to descend from the roof, and struck him squarely. Fortunately there was not so much of it, but it was enough. For an instant the recipient of the snowfall thought he had been assaulted, and he gave an alarm which brought Officer Coggeshall hurrying to the spot. He did not need assistance even to escape from the snow, for it fell off.

A WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone celebrated their thirteenth wedding anniversary Wednesday evening at their home on Fountain street, a number of friends helping celebrate the occasion. Several gifts were presented during the evening, from their children, a Haviland dinner set, a large upholstered rocking chair from the F. W. Club and several other useful articles. Fannie Weaver and Selmar Johanson gave several duets on the piano, and Hattie Shepley, Emma Weaver, Sophia Herlene, Lizzie ..., Iva Johnstone, Nellie Bigalk... and Adam Erhardt sang popular songs, Miss West accompanying on the piano. A colation was served, every ... receiving a pretty favor in remembrance of the occasion.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. Charles M. Bull of Brooklyn is guest of his brother, Mr. Henry Bull.

—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wobun have gone to New York and Washington on their wedding trip. They were married Monday night.

—Eighteen barrels of fish were shipped Wednesday night. Only two for shipment to New York came from Block Island, the rest being billed for Newport trade.

—The spring season approaches. One can learn this without looking at the ... by noting the number of farming and gardening implements arriving at the freight depot.

—Perry House arrivals include L. L. Roberts, E. H. Mullen, H. S. Porter, New York; I. J. Leonard, C. AR. Colver, D. W. Pierson, H S. Porter, Boston; D. V. Rush, Philadelphia.

—Again work has been resumed on the new Army and Navy structure. Carpenters are building more of the ... for the fourth floor and the stone masons are setting the water table.

—It looked like mining operations at the corner of Mill and Thames streets, but it was only some of Mr. P. H. ...'s men trying to make a connection with the sewer. It was tough going until they were below the ice ...

Mr. and Mrs. W. Douglass Hazard (Charlotte Mahan), having returned from their wedding trip and settled down, gave an "at home" Wednesday afternoon and evening at their new home on Rhode Island avenue.

—A poor woman this noon lost her ...book, containing $15, and ... she lost it on Thames street, ... from Touro street to the ... store. A search of the snow ... reveal it and it is possible ... was covered by some passing ...

—The attendance from Newport at the boxing in Fall River Wednesday night was much below expectations, ... by steam train, and in Fall River the attendance was also down. There was some good boxing, and ... Myers of this city made a good showing in one of the preliminaries.

—If any one could tell by the way ... smoke curled today how the wind ... he must be a wonder. Most of ... and smoke rose clear of any ... until well up, and then no ... adjacent columns bent the same way. Each seemed to feel a slightly different current, and a very slight one.

—Senator John P. Sanborn will be one of the speakers at the annual banquet of the Rhode Island Dartmouth Association in Providence this evening. Mr. Nathan W. Littlefield, president of the association, will preside and President Ernest Fox Nichols of Dartmouth College will be the principal speaker.

MARINE MURDERED.

Struck from Behind After a Quarrel in a New York Cafe.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Private John R. Hardey of the United States marines died in the Marine hospital in the Brooklyn navy yard from a fractured skull, received after he had quarrelled early today with a man in a cafe on Navy street. He started for the barracks in the navy yard shortly after the quarrel and was struck down from behind. Comrades found him unconscious an hour later and carried him to a hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness. The police have been unable to find his assailant.

BLUEFIELDS HER DESTINATION.

Former United States Gunboat Siren Reported as Sold to Nicaragua.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 9.—With Bluefields, Nicaragua, given as her destination, gunboat Siren, formerly owned by the United States government, secured clearance papers yesterday, after application to be registered under the Nicaraguan flag had been made. The Siren was reported several days ago as having sailed for Honduran waters. The little craft started south through the canal but returned for extensive repairs. Her captain declined to say where the Siren was going, or to talk of her mission. It is reported that the Siren, purchased by the same parties who bought gunboat Hornet, has been sold to the Nicaraguan government.

STRIKE SHORT LIVED.

Truce Arranged With Wells Fargo Express Officials and Employes.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Jersey City is in the troes of another express drivers strike today. This time, however, the disaffection is confined to 300 employes of the Wells Fargo Express Company, and there is little indication that it will spread. Discrimination against leaders in the general strike, last fall, is said by the men to be their grievance.

Anticipating trouble at the two stables of the Wells Fargo Company, Chief of Police Monohan sent 60 policemen to guard the building today. No demonstration was made by the strikers, however. The strikers charge that the men recently suspended during the annual lay off of employes, for the dull season, were in every instance the leaders in the trouble last fall. The company denies the alleged discrimination.

The express strike was short lived, for it was announced this afternoon that a truce had been arranged between the men and their employers. A conference will be held tomorrow and in the meantime, the men have agreed to return to work. The police have been recalled.

NEARLY REACHES CENTENARY.

Mrs. Rebecca Spring, a Native of Providence, Dies in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 9.—Within four months of her centenary, Mrs. Rebecca Spring, mother of Steele Mackaye, the dramatist, died at her home here yesterday. Mrs. Spring was the daughter of Arnold Bussen, a prominent anti-slavery leader. She was born in Providence, R. I., in 1811.

REACHES RIGHTFUL OWNER.

A Letter Which Went Astray in Virginia 46 Years Ago Delivered.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Feb. 9.—A letter which went astray on a Virginia battlefield over 46 years ago has just been sent to the person for whom it was intended. Major Seymour H. Wood of this city, who served in the first Vermont cavalry in the Civil war, has mailed to Mrs. Mildred Mitchell of Norfolk, Va., a letter taken by Henry C. Pomeroy of St. Albans, a soldier in the First Vermont, from the napsack of a confederate soldier, apparently dead, when the Vermonters made a charge on the confederate works at Fishers Hill, Va., September 22, 1864. The writer was P. H. Harris of Company A, Forty-second or Twelfth, the address not being perfectly legible, Virginia Vol. Infantry, Terry's Brigade, Gordon's division, Breckenbridge's corps. As the letter is dated September 22, 1864, it is evident that it was written the very day on which the soldier was killed on the field of battle. It is addressed to Miss Millie Snead, Lynchburg, Va., now Mrs. Mitchell, and to it is affixed a confederate stamp. Mrs. Mitchell, who is a widow, is now in charge of the linen room of the Norfolk Protestant Hospital.

Pomeroy lost the letter shortly after the war, but a few years ago he found it in his father's old famil Bible. Five years ago he gave it to Major Wood to be placed in a collection of relics of the Civil war, which the local Grand Army post has in its hall. Recently, however, Major Wood began a correspondence which resulted in the letter being sent to the woman to whom it was written.

ONE JAMESTOWN FERRY.

Confirmation of Rumors That Two Lines Are to Consolidate.

Result Will be Increased Accommodation of the Traveling Public.

The news from the General Assembly this afternoon, in regard to the combination of the two Jamestown ferries, is but a confirmation of rumors which have been in the air for some time. Since the death of Mr. H. Audley Clarke, who was generally credited with being the main support and strongest backer of the Saunders ferry, it has been said by those on the inside that there would be but one ferry the coming summer. The Jamestown & Newport Ferry Company had a meeting Saturday afternoon to take action on the matter of increasing the capital stock, and this news from Providence is the first public announcement as to what was then done.

The need of two ferryboats to handle the business of the town in summer is recognized by all who have watched the growth of the business during the past few years. It would of course be much more economical to have the two boats under one management, using one wharf and so running that the public would be accommodated and the boats would run on time. A repitition of the tactics of the past, with the rival boats waiting to catch the latest automobile without regard for the many who were on board in time, is not to be desired.

If the Jametsown & Newport Company secures possession of the Saunders ferry plant and runs two boats all this should disappear and a better service for the island and the public seems certain. With one company in control there is no need of running two boats after the need for the double service is over. In this way, and in many other ways, the combination of the two lines would be a great benefit to the many who have occasion to use the ferries in summer.

GRANTED A MONTH'S VACATION.

Rev. G. A. Hulbert, Though Not Really Sick, in Need of Immediate Rest.

The people were not altogether surprised, at the mid-week meeting of the United Congregational Church; Wednesday evening, not to find the pastor, Rev. G. A. Hulbert, in his accustomed place. On the previous Sunday he had apologized to the children for not having a special sermon for them, saying he had been in the clutches of the grip. It was known that he had been working hard, and the appearance of Mr. W. H. Chapin to take charge, Wednesday evening, would have been considered quite the proper thing under the circumstances. The people were not quite prepared, however, to learn that during the afternoon the deacons had found that Rev. Mr. Hulbert was so much run down that, while there is nothing really serious in the condition of his health, there is need of immediate rest, and a month's vacation had been tendered him, with complete relief from responsibility during that time.

Mr. Chapin spoke feelingly of the love of the people for their pastor, and a general feeling of appreciation, sympathy and regret was manifested by all present. Rev. Mr. Hulbert will probably go away to spend his vacation, although just what his plans will be is not now known. He had recently begun a series of talks on church work, and was also instructing a class of young people in the duties of church membership, among other matters which he had in hand.

ANOTHER SNOWFALL.

Lasted All the Evening, But Didn't Amount to Much, and Today There is a Thaw.

Contrary to expectations, it snowed again Wednesday night; almost every one expected rain, but snow came. It began about 6 o'clock and was over before midnight. It came down quite freely and promised something worth while, but about two and a half inches is all that it supplied, and that was light. It helped, however, with what already was here.

Today the temperature has been up to or above the thawing mark since 8 o'clock, the sun has tried to come out, and the snow is leaving quite fast. It is still good sleighing and sledding, while the snow is just fine for snowballing and the boys show more of the old-time habit than they have for some time. The conditions are just right to enjoy, if only one is young enough and has rubber boots.

The snow carting done by the highway department men came in handy this morning, for the soft snow was not too deep when one tried to cross Thames street. More carting is going on today.

Mr. Ernst Voigt was out with a four-in-hand sled today and made the show among the sleighs. Pretty nearly every one who had runners had them going today; it is not often that conditions are so good, and they may be gone tomorrow.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The officers-elect, with the exception of the warden and sentry, who were absent, were installed Wednesday evening at the meeting of Conanicut council, Royal Arcanum. Deputy Grand Regent David A. Lawton of Newport installed the officers, and with him were about 25 other members of the order from that city, the trip being made on one of Champion's launches. The officers installed were:

Regent—H. S. Stubbs.
Vice Regent—W. B. Gill.
Orator—A. C. Knowles.
Past Regent—George Locke.
Secretary—G. H. Carr.
Collector—C. L. Champlin.
Treasurer—W. F. Caswell.
Guide—Ferdinand Armbrust.
Chaplain—William Williams.

Mr. George Locke was presented with a past regent's jewel. Cake, ice cream, coffee and cigars were served.

The paymaster and clerk were at Fort Greble Wednesday, on their monthly visit.

Mrs. John Brooks is visiting in Providence.

The sleighing on the island is the best of the winter.

and others, for the abolition of the property qualification of voters. Referred to the committee on special legislation.

From the calendar were taken and passed resolutions transferring the Andersonville monument trust fund to the national government, carrying $2,-$33.34 for expenses for the inauguration exercises, with other accounts as follows for the same purpose: $97.31 for the service of Battery A, $280 for the attendance of deputy sheriffs, $42.64 for a detail from the cavalry troops and $28 for the feeding of 28 men of the battery.

DEATH DUE TO OLD AGE.

Bishop Whitaker of Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania Expires.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—Rt. Rev. Ozi W. Whitaker, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania, died at his residence here at noon today. He had been in feeble health for a long time and death was due principally to exhaustion, following a severe attack of grip, and to old age. At his bedside when he passed away were two nieces and other relatives. His wife died in June 1908.

Bishop Whitaker was ordained to the priesthood in 1863. In 1868 he was consecrated bishop of Nevada. In the face of many difficulties, Bishop Whitaker rendered yeoman service in Nevada and as a reward he was made bishop coadjutor of the Pennsylvania diocese in 1886, and in the following year, upon the death of Bishop Stevens, came into the full honors of the office.

BISHOP WHITAKER'S SUCCESSOR.

Rt. Rev. Alexander Mackay-Smith Wealthiest Episcopal Clergyman.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—The successor of Bishop Whitaker of Pennsylvania, who died today, is Rt. Rev. Alexander Mackay-Smith, the aged prelate's coadjutor. Bishop Mackay Smith is the wealthiest clergyman in the Protestant Episcopal Church in this country. He was born in New Haven, Conn., in 1850, is a graduate of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and of Trinity College, Hartford. He was a resident of Boston from 1877 to 1880, during which he was attached to Grace Church, South Boston.

Bishop Whitaker was a native of New Salem, Franklin county, Mass., and a graduate of Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt. He was the oldest bishop but one in the American Episcopal Church, being born May 10, 1830.

DUTIES SHOULD REMAIN.

British Columbia Interests Would be Affected if Treaty is Adopted.

NELSON, B. C., Feb. 9.—Resolutions protesting that duties on ranch produce and fruits should not be removed unless the duties on articles used by the ranchers were also removed, were passed by a mass meeting of fruit growers here yesterday. The resolutions recite that the reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada provides for free admission in to Canada of fruits coming in competition with the products of the ranchers, but makes no provision for a reduction on those things the ranchers buy. Speakers at the mass meetings say the competition of Washington and Oregon fruit growers would seriously affect the British Columbia fruit growing interests if the reciprocity agreement were adopted.

DEMOCRATS IN OPPOSITION.

Bill to Create Permanent Tariff Board to be Favorably Reported.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—By a strictly party vote, all the Democrats in opposition, the Senate committee on finance today voted to report favorably the bill passed by the House to create a permanent tariff board. Several important amendments were adopted.

NONE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Southbound Southern Railway Train Derailed Near Chattanooga.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 9.—A southbound Southern railway train, known as the Memphis Special, was derailed last night 15 miles east of Chattanooga. Several persons are reported injured, none seriously. Mrs. B. W. Hooper, wife of the governor of Tennessee, their three children, and Mrs. Hooper's mother were passengers but are reported to have escaped without injury.

REGAINS ITS LEAD.

Father Mathew Basket Ball Team Defeats the Algonkins, the Score Being 26 to 14.

The Father Mathew team regained its lead in the City Basket Ball League tournament by defeating the Algonkins on the latter's floor Wednesday evening, the score being 26 to 14. The game was close and interesting until the middle of the second period, when the Father Mathew players forged ahead. Throughout the team showed their usual fine work, the passing being excellent. They also had luck in their tries for goals. The Algonkins put up an excellent defense game, and at times their offense was brilliant.

In the first half the Tabs started with three goals to their credit before the Algonkins scored, making two in succession. Each side gained an additional basket, making the score at the end of the half 8 to 6 in favor of Father Mathew.

The play in the second period was close and exciting. Martin scored the first goal, giving his team a lead of four points. Then Underwood and Maher made baskets and the score was tied. The Father Mathew team added four more points, and the Algonkins again tied the score. Then Father Mathew scored enough goals in succession to bring the score to 26, while the Algonkins failed to make another basket.

Fitzsimmons was the star of the game, scoring four goals in the second half and two in the first. Underwood did the best work for the Algonkins. The line-up was as follows:

Father Mathew.		Algonkins.
Byrnes, r. f.	l. b.,	Maher, Gash, Fitz
Martin, l. f.	r. b.,	Kyle
Fitzsimmons, c.	c.,	Gash, Maher
Sullivan, r. b.	l. f.,	Underwood
Dwyer, l. b.	r. f.,	Hickey

Score—Father Mathew 26; Algonkins 14. Goals from floor—Martin 2, Fitzsimmons 6, Sullivan, Dwyer 3; Maher 2, Kyle, Underwood 3, Hickey. Goals from fouls—Martin, Fitzsimmons. Referees—McMahon and Harvey. Scorer—Johnson. Timers—Stark and Walters. Time—Two 20-minute halves.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	Percentage.
Father Mathew	8	3	.727
St. Joseph's	7	3	.700
Tigers	5	4	.556
Algonkins	6	5	.545
Galahads	4	6	.400
Y. M. C. A.	0	9	.000

PARDONED BY FOSS.

Massachusetts Murderer Freed After Forty Years.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—After serving more than 40 years William E. Hill (colored) stepped from the gates of the state prison at Charlestown this morning a free man. Hill was convicted in 1870 for the murder of William Jacobs near Stoughton Centre. He was sentenced to death, but later the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Crafts.

Hill was pardoned by Governor Foss yesterday, after a petition from friends of the prisoner had been presented. Freedom was granted on the ground that the ends of justice had been satisfied.

OPPOSITION TO BE WITHHELD.

British Columbia Lumbermen No Longer Hostile to the Agreement.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 9.—British Columbia lumbermen will withdraw their opposition to the reciprocity agreement with the United States, according to a statement made yesterday by John Hendry, president of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, and of the Canadian Forestry Association. Mr. Hendry said that although British Columbia lumbermen believed that the United States should admit Canadian shingles free, they regarded the reduction from 50 to 30 cents per 1,000 as a distinct gain.

SEATTLE ISSUES PERMIT.

Skyscraper, 41 Stories High, to be Built by Syracuse People.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 9.—The last obstacle in the way of the erection of a 41-story building in this city, by the estate of the late L. C. Smith of Syracuse, N. Y., was removed last night when the council committee that has been going over the plans voted to grant the permit. The local agent for the Smith estate informed the committee that the skyscraper, which will be the highest office building in the world, outside of New York city, will be begun within the next six weeks.

INQUIRY INTO STRIKE ENDS.

Evidence to be Used to Frame Laws Against Blacklisting Agency.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—The state senate commission has concluded its investigation into the garment workers' strike, which was called off last Monday. The strike lasted four months and involved about 40,000 workers. Senator Henson, chairman of the commission, said the evidence would be used to frame legislation aimed at the abolition of a blacklisting agency, alleged to be maintained by the clothing manufacturers.

Bank of England's Rate Unchanged.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England remained unchanged at 4 per cent. oday.

INCREASE OF PROVIDENCE TELEPHONE STOCK.

The Providence Telephone Company's stockholders have voted to authorize the directors to increase the capital stock from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000, at their discretion, and the board of directors has voted that $500,000 of this increase should go into effect at the present time.

It is shown in the report of the treasurer and secretary that the net earnings of the company during the past year amounted to $307,715.10, the gross earnings being $1,287,273.45. All the officers and directors were re-elected.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. J. D. Dickson is in Chicago.

—Wednesday was pay day at the local forts.

—Mr. H. F. Webster has returned from New York.

—Mrs. Sperry has returned to the LaForge cottage.

—Mrs. Frederick Bronson has returned to New York.

—Mrs. DeLancey Kane is at the Muenchinger-King cottage.

—Admiral and Mrs. Rodgers and Miss Rodgers are in New York.

—Miss Sarah Cronan and Miss Mae Roach are here from New York to visit relatives.

—"Tam O'Shanter," the operetta heard here earlier in the season, will be repeated about the middle of March, with the latest Scotch songs.

—Mr. Patrick Nolan, accompanied by his son, George F., left Wednesday night for their annual excursion south, which this year is to take in the Bahama Islands. They are to be gone a month.

—The Sunshine Society, whose funds have been reduced to a low state through the large amount of benevolence in which it has been engaged, is planning to replenish its treasury by holding an original valentine party.

—The Weenat Shassit Association held its semi-annual meeting Wednesday evening. Frank S. Hale was elected president and A. G. Griffith vice president. It was voted to pay off another $1,000 on the mortgage on the property.

—Wednesday sliding snow on the roof of the torpedo factory at the Torpedo Station broke the skylights and made it exceeding unpleasant for the men who were working in the shop, though none were injured by the falling glass.

—Complaint is made by abutters on Spring and Bevin streets of the promiscuous throwing of snow by the plow. The complaint now is not from those on the side next the tracks, but those on the other side of the street, who in years past have been laughing at those on the near side, who saw their sidewalks filled up by the plow after they had shoveled them.

—Superintendent Joseph Barrett of the Newport Casino, who has returned from New York, where he went in connection with the recent lawn tennis meeting, says the need of a summer hotel in this city was quite strongly demonstrated at the meeting. With a proper summer hotel much of the opposition to Newport as the permanent place for the tennis would disappear.

—The Philathea Class of the First Baptist Church held a reception Wednesday evening for the improvement society. During the evening a table was unveiled on which was displayed a kitchen shower, the gift of the class to the society, which was accepted by the president with thanks. A pleasing program was then rendered, after which refreshments were served.

—The work of preparation for the reconstruction of the Aaron building is on. Quantities of earth must be removed for the sinking of the floor to grade, and that is now going on, it being brought out to the street in wheelbarrows. The inspector of buildings has yet to approve the plans for the reconstructed structure and is studying the proposition. Good progress is being made at the Downing building, tearing out for the new work which is going in.

VOTE SOUGHT ON LORIMER CASE.

Many Senators Trying to Force Action at Present Session.

Hale Makes Plea to Check "Resistless March of Federal Government" in State Affairs.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Great pressure is being exerted by many Senators to bring about a vote on the Lorimer case. Usually those who are opposed to any proposition are the men who prevent a vote, while in the case of the Illinois Senator the men opposed to his remaining in the Senate are most anxious to have a vote, and the objections have come from those who favor Lorimer.

"This matter ought not to be over," said Senator Burkett to a number of Republican Senators. "You ought to bring it to a vote. Take the case of Senator Smoot. As long as that was held open petitions came in by the thousands, and everybody received letters on the subject. As soon as a vote was taken interest in the case died out, although Smoot was seated. The same thing would happen in the case of Lorimer. As soon as the Senate has rendered its judgment the agitation will cease.

"The friends of Lorimer ought not to seek delay," continued the Nebraska Senator, "for it is certain that the next Senate will not be any more favorably disposed toward him than this Senate. The present Senate owes it to itself to dispose of this case and not allow it to become a hangover for another year."

The other Nebraska Senator, Brown, has served notice that there must be a vote on the Lorimer case and several other matters if the appropriation bills get through. But, whatever may happen and however often such declarations are made, in the end the Senate will pass the appropriation bills and avoid an extra session.

During the consideration of a bill for salmon fishing on the Columbia river an amendment was proposed reserving certain rights of the states of Oregon and Washington. This brought from Senator Hale a strong statement regarding the preservation of the rights of states.

"I should welcome," said the Maine Senator, "any attempt at this time to preserve any right, jurisdiction and power of a state of the Union over any subject whatever against the resistless march of the federal government to take possession of and obliterate all those rights." Very emphatic words from an old wheelhorse of the Republican party, which is supposed to be a strong federal organization.

It carries one back to the days before the Spanish war to read from time to time pronunciamentos from Mexican revolutionists stationed in Washington. The Cuban junta ran a very creditable press bureau in those days, although the press agency business, like everything else, has made rapid strides since that time. Nearly every day there was a story about a "battle" in which the insurgents had defeated the Spanish troops. First and last, there were enough battles to have covered the island and enough Spaniards killed to have wiped out the population of Spain.

Now we are constantly told of the manner in which the revolutionists in Mexico are making headway, of the fear of Diaz for the loss of his life as well as his government and of the assured success of the revolutionists. There is one difference between the Cuban and Mexican juntas—the former received more encouragement than has been given to the latter.

The delegate from Hawaii, Mr. Kalaninnaole, has caught the fever and wants a bit of the public money that is going around. He has introduced a bill setting apart about 50,000 acres of land for a national park in the island of Hawaii, which will take in most of the volcano Kilauea and the surrounding territory. Delegate Kalaninnaole will not get his bill through this session, but he will have an opportunity to work for it in the Sixty-second Congress, as he has been returned for another term.

There has been talk of a veto of the Sulloway pension bill, or at least the president has asked where the money is to come from for the payment of $45,000,000, which it is expected the bill will cost. "They had better provide some means to get the money," is what the President told a visitor. Meanwhile the old soldiers are getting anxious and have sent many petitions to the Senate asking that the bill be passed.

It has been suggested that if a person with a bent for counting and figures should go to work on the Congressional record he would count the name of Congressman Mann more times than all others put together. It is a mighty lonesome page that his name does not adorn.

PURE FOOD LAWS VIOLATED.

Chicago Manufacturers of Ice Cream Ship Unfit Products.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—As a result of an investigation which has been conducted under the direction of United States District Attorney Sims an information against three large manufacturers of ice cream will be filed with Judge K. M. Landis in the United States district court and bench warrants were issued for the defendants. The warrants are returnable today. The government charges these concerns with violating the federal pure food laws for shipments of impure ice cream from one state to another. The product so shipped is declared to have "consisted in whole or in part of a filthy, decomposed and putrid vegetable substance, which renders the article unfit for food."

According to the government attorneys Dr. A. L. Winton, head of the United States food laboratory, found as many as 500,000,000 bacteria in approximately a quarter of a teaspoonful of the product.

Rhode Island proposes to do her part toward establishing an "era of good feeling." A measure introduced in the assembly, embracing the words "war of the Rebellion" was amended by the substitution of "Civil war. This will help to strengthen the entente cordiale that was started by the amicable settlement of the North Carolina bond matter.—[Boston Transcript.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW EVOLUTION.

Annual Exhibitions Changing Greatly But Are Educational to an Advanced Degree.

That the modern automobile and accessory show has passed through a period of evolution completely changing its character is the conclusion of George M. Dickson, general manager of the national company, after a study of the New York and Chicago exhibitions. They are still educational, he admits but not as in the old days, when the average man was sceptical about the ability of the automobile to run more than a few miles. Nowadays they are useful in teaching the public the utility of the various types for certain purposes.

"In the early days the shows were promoted to convince the public that the automobile would prove a practical means of transportation," Mr. Dickson says. "People attended, but were mostly sceptical and viewed with doubt the contraptions, which today would seem strange. Today the automobile is accepted everywhere without question. The present year finds but few vital changes in design and construction. The cars mostly are standardized, and the differences in the various makes which appeal to different people are not freakish features, but recognized meritorious features of design and construction which are manufactured for varying uses and desires. The accessory makers have kept pace with the car manufacturers, and their improvements have added much to the comfort of town and county driving.

"Today the majority of people are for the automobile. It is the prospective purchaser who attends the show. It is the man who wants to select from the many that one machine which seems to be best suited for his own particular needs. The modern automobile show is not intended to merely convince the public that the automobile is a practical, desirable vehicle. It is rather a collection to give the public a chance to select a car from the many, and makes that selection easier by giving him a chance to compare the various makes. Of course the shows still exert a big educational influence. There are yet to be found persons who are somewhat doubtful regarding the practical utility of the automobile.

"And there are many persons who doubt whether they can afford a car or not, although they do not question the usefulness of the cars. The shows do much to light the way of these classes. And of course the exhibitions, with the salesmen and mechanical experts on hand ready to answer all kinds of questions, do much educational work, especially of what may be called an advanced nature. They are able to give many useful hints regarding the upkeep of machinery and tires to those who have had some experience as well as to those who are looking at the automobile seriously for the first time."

TO TREAT PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

A speedy and economical treatment for disfiguring pimples is the following: Gently smear the face with Cuticura ointment, but do not rub. Wash off the ointment in five minutes with Cuticura soap and hot water and bathe freely for some minutes. Repeat morning and evening. At other times use hot water and Cuticura soap for bathing the face as often as agreeable. Cuticura soap and ointment are equally successful for itching, burning, scaly and crusted humors of the skin and scalp, with loss of hair, from infancy to age.

PARDONED BY FOSS.

Massachusetts Murderer Freed After Forty Years.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—After serving more than 40 years William E. Hill (colored) stepped from the gates of the state prison at Charlestown this morning a free man. Hill was convicted in 1870 for the murder of William Jacobs near Stoughton Centre. He was sentenced to death, but later the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Crafts.

Hill was pardoned by Governor Foss yesterday, after a petition from friends of the prisoner had been presented. Freedom was granted on the ground that the ends of justice had been satisfied.

OPPOSITION TO BE WITHHELD.

British Columbia Lumbermen No Longer Hostile to the Agreement.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 9.—British Columbia lumbermen will withdraw their opposition to the reciprocity agreement with the United States, according to a statement made yesterday by John Hendry, president of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, and of the Canadian Forestry Association. Mr. Hendry said that although British Columbia lumbermen believed that the United States should admit Canadian shingles free, they regarded the reduction from 50 to 30 cents per 1,000 as a distinct gain.

SEATTLE ISSUES PERMIT.

Skyscraper, 41 Stories High, to be Built by Syracuse People.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 9.—The last obstacle in the way of the erection of a 41-story building in this city, by the estate of the late L. C. Smith of Syracuse, N. Y., was removed last night when the council committee that has been going over the plans voted to grant the permit. The local agent for the Smith estate informed the committee that the skyscraper, which will be the highest office building in the world, outside of New York city, will be begun within the next six weeks.

INQUIRY INTO STRIKE ENDS.

Evidence to be Used to Frame Laws Against Blacklisting Agency.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—The state senate commission has concluded its investigation into the garment workers' strike, which was called off last Monday. The strike lasted four months and involved about 40,000 workers. Senator Benson, chairman of the commission, said the evidence would be used to frame legislation aimed at the abolition of a blacklisting agency, alleged to be maintained by the clothing manufacturers.

Bank of England's Rate Unchanged.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England remained unchanged at 4 per cent today.

INCREASE OF PROVIDENCE TELEPHONE STOCK

The Providence Telephone Company's stockholders have voted to authorize the directors to increase the capital stock from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000, at their discretion, and the board of directors has voted that $500,000 of this increase should go into effect at the present time.

It is shown in the report of the treasurer and secretary that the net earnings of the company during the past year amounted to $367,745.10, the gross earnings being $1,297,273.45. All the officers and directors were re-elected.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. J. D. Dickson is in Chicago.

—Wednesday was pay day at the local forts.

—Mr. H. F. Webster has returned from New York.

—Mrs. Sperry has returned to the LaFarge cottage.

—Mrs. Frederick Branson has returned to New York.

—Mrs. DeLancey Kane is at the Muenchinger-King cottage.

—Admiral and Mrs. Rodgers and Miss Rodgers are in New York.

—Miss Sarah Cronan and Miss Mae Roach are here from New York to visit relatives.

—"Tam O'Shanter," the operetta heard here earlier in the season, will be repeated about the middle of March with the latest Scotch songs.

—Mr. Patrick Nolan, accompanied by his son, George F., left Wednesday night for their annual excursion south, which this year is to take in the Bahama islands. They are to be gone a month.

—The Sunshine Society, whose funds have been reduced to a low state through the large amount of benevolence in which it has been engaged, is planning to replenish its treasury by holding an original valentine party.

—The Weenat Shassit Association held its semi-annual meeting Wednesday evening. Frank S. Hale was elected president and A. G. Griffith vice president. It was voted to pay off another $1,000 on the mortgage on the property.

—Wednesday sliding snow on the roof of the torpedo factory at the Torpedo Station broke the skylights and made it exceeding unpleasant for the men who were working in the shop, though none were injured by the falling glass.

—Complaint is made by abutters on Spring and Levin streets of the promiscuous throwing of snow by the plow. The complaint now is not from those on the side next the tracks, but those on the other side of the street, who in years past have been laughing at those on the near side, who saw their sidewalks filled up by the plow after they had shoveled them.

—Superintendent Joseph Barrett of the Newport Casino, who has returned from New York, where he went in connection with the recent lawn tennis meeting, says the need of a summer hotel in this city was quite strongly demonstrated at the meeting. With a proper summer hotel much of the opposition to Newport as the permanent place for the tennis would disappear.

—The Philathea Class of the First Baptist Church held a reception Wednesday evening for the improvement society. During the evening a table was unveiled, on which was displayed a kitchen shower, the gift of the class to the society, which was accepted by the president with thanks. A pleasing program was then rendered, after which refreshments were served.

—The work of preparation for the reconstruction of the Aaron building is on. Quantities of earth must be removed for the sinking of the floor to grade, and that is now going on, it being brought out to the street in wheelbarrows. The inspector of buildings has yet to approve the plans for the reconstructed structure and is studying the proposition. Good progress is being made at the Downing building, tearing out for the new work which is going in.

VOTE SOUGHT ON LORIMER CASE.

Many Senators Trying to Force Action at Present Session.

Hale Makes Plea to Check "Resistless March of Federal Government" in State Affairs.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Great pressure is being exerted by many Senators to bring about a vote on the Lorimer case. Usually those who are opposed to any proposition are the men who prevent a vote, while in the case of the Illinois Senator the men opposed to his remaining in the Senate are most anxious to have a vote, and the objections have come from those who favor Lorimer.

"This matter ought not to go over," said Senator Burkett to a number of Republican Senators. "You ought to bring it to a vote. Take the case of Senator Smoot. As long as that was held open petitions came in by the thousands, and everybody received letters on the subject. As soon as a vote was taken interest in the case died out, although Smoot was seated. The same thing would happen in the case of Lorimer. As soon as the Senate has rendered its judgment the agitation will cease.

"The friends of Lorimer ought not to seek delay," continued the Nebraska Senator, "for it is certain that the next Senate will not be any more favorably disposed toward him than this Senate. The present Senate owes it to itself to dispose of this case and not allow it to become a hangover for another year."

The other Nebraska Senator, Brown, has served notice that there must be a vote on the Lorimer case and several other matters if the appropriation bills get through. But, whatever may happen and however often such declarations are made, in the end the Senate will pass the appropriation bills and avoid an extra session.

During the consideration of a bill for salmon fishing on the Columbia river an amendment was proposed reserving certain rights of the states of Oregon and Washington. This brought from Senator Hale a strong statement regarding the preservation of the rights of states.

"I should welcome," said the Maine Senator, "any attempt at this time to preserve any right, jurisdiction and power of a state of the Union over any subject whatever against the resistless march of the federal government to take possession of and obliterate all those rights." Very emphatic words from an old wheelhorse of the Republican party, which is supposed to be a strong federal organization.

It carries one back to the days before the Spanish war to read from time to time pronunciamentos from Mexican revolutionists stationed in Washington. The Cuban junta ran a very creditable press bureau in those days, although the press agency business, like everything else, has made rapid strides since that time. Nearly every day there was a story about a "battle" in which the insurgents had defeated the Spanish troops. First and last, there were enough battles to have covered the island and enough Spaniards killed to have wiped out the population of Spain.

Now we are constantly told of the manner in which the revolutionists in Mexico are making headway, of the fear of Diaz for the loss of his life as well as his government and of the assured success of the revolutionists. There is one difference between the Cuban and Mexican juntas—the former received more encouragement than has been given to the latter.

The delegate from Hawaii, Mr. Kalanianaole, has caught the fever and wants a bit of the public money that is going around. He has introduced a bill setting apart about 50,000 acres of land for a national park in the island of Hawaii, which will take in most of the volcano Kilauea and the surrounding territory. Delegate Kalanianaole will not get his bill through this session, but he will have an opportunity to work for it in the Sixty-second Congress, as he has been returned for another term.

There has been talk of a veto of the Sulloway pension bill, or at least the president has asked where the money is to come from for the payment of $45,000,000, which it is expected the bill will cost. "They had better provide some means to get the money," is what the President told a visitor. Meanwhile the old soldiers are getting anxious and have sent many petitions to the Senate asking that the bill be passed.

It has been suggested that if a person with a bent for counting and figures should go to work on the Congressional record he would count the name of Congressman Mann more times than all others put together. It is a mighty lonesome page that his name does not adorn.

PURE FOOD LAWS VIOLATED.

Chicago Manufacturers of Ice Cream Ship Unfit Products.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. As a result of an investigation which has been conducted under the direction of United States District Attorney Sims an information against three large manufacturers of ice cream will be filed with Judge K. M. Landis in the United States district court and bench warrants were issued for the defendants. The warrants are returnable today. The government charges these companies with violating the federal pure food laws for shipments of impure ice cream from one state to another. The product so shipped is declared to have consisted in whole or in part of a filthy, decomposed and putrid vegetable substance, which renders the article unfit for food.

According to the government attorneys Dr. A. L. Winton, head of the United States food laboratory, found as many as 500,000,000 bacteria in approximately a quarter of a teaspoonful of the product.

Rhode Island proposes to do her part toward establishing an "era of good feeling." A measure introduced in the assembly, embracing the words "war of the Rebellion" was amended by the substitution of "Civil war." AUTOMOBILE SHOW EVOLUTION.

Annual Exhibitions Changing Greatly But Are Educational to an Advanced Degree.

That the modern automobile and accessory show has passed through a period of evolution completely changing its character is the conclusion of George M. Dickson, general manager of the National company, after a study of the New York and Chicago exhibitions. They are still educational, he admits, but not as in the old days, when the average man was sceptical about the ability of the automobile to run more than a few miles. Nowadays they are useful in teaching the public the utility or the various types for certain purposes.

"In the early days the shows were promoted to convince the public that the automobile would prove a practical means of transportation," Mr. Dickson says. "People attended, but were mostly sceptical and viewed with doubt the contraptions, which today would seem strange. Today the automobile is accepted everywhere without question. The present year finds but few vital changes in design and construction. The cars mostly are standardized, and the differences in the various makes which appeal to different people are not freakish features, but recognized meritorious features of design and construction which are manufactured for varying uses and desires. The accessory makers have kept pace with the car manufacturers, and their improvements have added much to the comfort of town and county driving.

"Today the majority of people are for the automobile. It is the prospective purchaser who attends the show. It is the man who wants to select from the many that one machine which seems to be best suited for his own particular needs. The modern automobile show is not intended to merely convince the public that the automobile is a practical, desirable vehicle. It is rather a collection to give the public a chance to select a car from the many, and makes that selection easier by giving him a chance to compare the various makes. Of course the shows still exert a big educational influence. There are yet to be found persons who are somewhat doubtful regarding the practical utility of the automobile.

"And there are many persons who doubt whether they can afford a car or not, although they do not question the usefulness of the cars. The shows do much to light the way of these classes. And of course the exhibitions, with the salesmen and mechanical experts on hand ready to answer all kinds of questions, do much educational work, especially of what may be called an advanced nature. They are able to give many useful hints regarding the upkeep of machinery and tires to those who have had some experience as well as to those who are looking at the automobile seriously for the first time."

TO TREAT PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

A speedy and economical treatment for disfiguring pimples is the following: Gently smear the face with Cuticura ointment, but do not rub. Wash off the ointment in five minutes with Cuticura soap and hot water and bathe freely for some minutes. Repeat morning and evening. At other times use hot water and Cuticura soap for bathing the face as often as agreeable. Cuticura soap and ointment are equally successful for tickling, burning, scaly and crusted humors of the skin and scalp, with loss of hair, from infancy to age.

THE GIRL WITH BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Attracts Attention Everywhere

There is one sure and certain way for every woman to have beautiful hair, and that is to give it intelligent care, which includes the use of Newbro's Herpicide.

MAUSOLEUM IN ERIE DESECRATED.

Body of William L. Scott's Sister-in-Law Missing.

Vandals Probably Commit Act in Order to Obtain Ransom.

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 9.—Body snatching that may equal the daring grave robbery that stirred the country more than a quarter of a century ago, when the body of A. T. Stewart, New York's pioneer merchant, was stolen, has stirred this section of Pennsylvania as nothing has since the sensational kidnapping which occurred in this vicinity a few years ago.

The mausoleum of the late Representative William L. Scott was desecrated some time between Monday and yesterday afternoon and the body of Mrs. McCollum, a sister-in-law of Mr. Scott, is missing from the vault. The discovery was made by two women walking through the Erie cemetery. The family was immediately notified and details of Erie police kept watch at the tomb during the night to greet the body snatchers should they return. None appeared, however. Whose body was taken has not been officially disclosed. The first information to the public came from the family. The police believe that the body is being held for ransom and that the vandals also intended to carry away the bodies of the millionaire and his wife.

When the women in the cemetery found broken chains and open doors in the mausoleum they notified Mrs. Charles H. Strong, daughter of Mr. Scott, and wife of Charles H. Strong, president of the Erie & Pittsburg Railroad and the Erie County Electric Light Company, the owner of the Erie Dispatch. Mrs. Strong notified the police and Mrs. Thora Strong Ronalds, a granddaughter of Mr. Scott, started for the cemetery with her father, Mr. Strong. The caskets are sealed in a wall and a chisel had been used in breaking the seals before the metallic box could be carried away.

The casket taken was the first of the lower tier at the north side of the mausoleum and directly opposite it on the second tier are the caskets containing the bodies of Congressman and Mrs. Scott. The seal here was also broken and when the tomb was examined it was found that this casket was half way out and to all appearances was ready to be carried away. The remains of the millionaire were lying next to those of his wife, but his casket was not disturbed. A number of palms stored in the mausoleum had been broken down and two other caskets were broken into, but no attempt was made to carry either of them away.

That the casket and body were carried away in a wagon is indicated by tracks about the mausoleum. The foot prints of four and in some instances six men are discernible, about a point where the end of a wagon might be placed. The wagon tracks lead to one of the gates of the cemetery, where they are lost in the beaten tracks of travel. An Italian settlement near the cemetery has become an object of scrutiny by the police and every dwelling is being searched from cellar to garret.

The idea that the body of Mrs. McCollum is being held for ransom by designing persons is substantiated by an incident of two years ago when the Strong family was stormed with Black Hand letters demanding $10,000, with the alternative of having their summer home, west of this city, blown to atoms. The perpetrators were subsequently apprehended and are now in the Western penitentiary. Mrs. McCollum was a member of a prominent family of Philadelphia and her maiden name was Tracy.

William L. Scott, who built the mausoleum over 20 years ago, was a close personal friend of the late Ex-President Grover Cleveland and was one of the leaders of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives when Cleveland was serving his first term as President of the United States. Grover Cleveland was one of the pall bearers at his funeral, his remains being the first to be interred in the vault. He was one of the most prominent railroad magnates of his time.

When day light broke ropes were stretched around the mausoleum to hold in check hundreds of curious sightseers. One of the big bronze doors on the mausoleum had been pried from its hinges and the other had been badly battered. Practically every casket in the vault had been tampered with, some of them having been opened, while that containing the body of Mrs. Anna McCollum was removed entirely. Just when the vault was broken into has not been determined. No clue to the ghouls or the missing body has been found. Mrs. McCollum died in Philadelphia nearly two years ago. She was the wife of J. A. McCollum and daughter of John A. Tracy of this city. The body was brought here and placed in the Scott vault, which is located about the middle of the cemetery and hidden from view from the street. On account of the cold weather, recently, few persons have visited the cemetery and the robbers were free to work with little fear of being molested.

STILL NO CHOICE.

Locomotive Engineers Favor Sheehan as Friend of Labor.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 9.—There was no choice for Senator on the twentieth ballot today. Sheehan received 75 votes, Shepard 10 and Depew 72, with 80 necessary for election.

A delegation of locomotive engineers called at the executive chamber today to present to Governor Dix resolutions adopted at the annual meeting of the state legislative board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, favoring Mr. Sheehan's candidacy, as a friend of organized labor.

Will Sheehan withdraw as a candidate for United States Senator? That is the question uppermost in the minds of legislators, weary and impatient over the failure to break the deadlock which has existed since January 17. While yesterday's conference resulted in the Democrats "getting closer together," in the opinion of Senator Cullen, one of the organization leaders, it failed to shake a single vote and many legislators have expressed the opinion that nothing short of Mr. Sheehan's withdrawal and the selection of a compromise candidate will end the struggle. Mr. Sheehan himself says he is still confident of election and Charles F. Murphy has indicated that he intends to continue the fight for the caucus candidate. Developments over Sunday probably will determine whether another conference will be called next week.

PAROLE RECOMMENDED.

Surgery Supposed to Have Made a Criminal Normal.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 9.—The state parole board at its meeting at the Clinton prison today was expected to parole Edward E. Gremmell, whom surgery is supposed to have transferred from a criminal into a normal man. Sentenced from Buffalo in April, 1908, for forgery, for a term of nine years and six months, Gremmell's sentence was commuted by Governor White to make possible his parole this month.

When a boy of 14, during a quarrel with a playmate, Gremmell suffered a fractured skull. Following this he claimed he could not resist impulses to commit crime, and several convictions followed. His case was called to the attention of alienists and in March, 1909, Dr. De Witt Wilcox of Boston University operated on the convict's skull, after he had expressed a desire to lead an upright life. The result of the experiment is being watched by alienists, and Governor White recommended to the parole board that Gremmell be kept on parole for a much longer period than usual. If Gremmell commits even a misdemeanor he will be returned to the prison to serve out his sentence.

DISCREPANCY IN RATES.

Springfield and Brattleboro Residents Question Railroad Fares.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 9.—Springfield and Brattleboro residents are curious to know why the railroad fare from the Vermont town to this city is $1.65, while it costs only $1.30 to go from here to Brattleboro. It also costs more to get out of Vermont from points north of Brattleboro than it does to go to the same places from Springfield. The local railroad officials say that the discrepancy in rates is due to the failure of the Boston traffic bureau to complete its work of revision, recently undertaken. The railroad people say that the bureau has been overworked and that a re-adjustment is probable soon. For a long time the same difference has held true in points in Massachusetts. It was cheaper to go from Chicopee through Springfield to Boston than it was to go simply from Springfield to Boston. It has cost 30 cents less to go to Salem from Springfield than to return to Springfield from Salem.

DEER CHASED BY EAGLES.

A Large Buck Reaches Hastings on Hudson, from an Ice Floe in River.

HASTINGS ON HUDSON, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Trailed by eagles high in the air, a big buck deer with a fine pair of antlers made his way from an ice floe in the current of the Hudson to land today. The deer was seen on the river ice at Tarrytown last night and was almost exhausted when he reached land. The eagles apparently were waiting for the spent animal to fall. The birds were disappointed, however, for the buck procured a meal of snow covered grass and shrubbery.

CONDITIONS LESS ALARMING.

American Consul at Juarez Thinks Insurrectos May Give Up Attack.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Thomas A. Edwards, American consul at Juarez, reporting to the State Department under yesterday's date, declared that unless the Mexican insurrectos took the city within a few hours they would have to give up the attempt, as their position afforded them no means of subsistence. The revolutionists, the consul added, were fleeing back into the country for shelter. He said that conditions were less alarming and that with confidence restored business was becoming normal. The railroads, he continued, expected to resume traffic within 48 hours.

PROBABLY FATALLY SHOT.

Sheriff of Cumberland, Md., Injured in Attack With a German.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Feb. 9.—Sheriff Noah Hendley, aged 50, and John Sweitzer, aged 65, a German, were probably fatally shot in a gun battle today, when officers attempted to serve a writ of ejectment on Sweitzer at his home. Sweitzer twice wounded the sheriff, one bullet entering his breast just above the heart, and the other striking him in the hand. Sweitzer was shot through the breast by Deputy Sheriff Walter Clay. Sweitzer's home was sold three months ago for a judgment of $2,700. When Matern Gerbig, the purchaser, attempted to take possession, Sweitzer refused to leave and threatened to kill any one who entered.

Armed with the writ, Sheriff Hendley accompanied by Deputies Clay and James Corfield, went to the house this morning. Repeated rappings by the sheriff failed to bring a response and he broke in the door with a hammer. Sweitzer met him in the hall and fired twice, both shots taking effect. Before the aged man could fire a third time, Deputy Clay shot him through the breast.

A VICTIM OF PENUMONIA.

Walter Browne, Dramatist and Newspaper Man, Dies in New York.

NEW York, Feb. 9.—Walter Browne, a dramatist and newspaper man, died today at the Audubon Hospital. His death was due to pneumonia, following a cold contracted a week ago while the writer was attending a rehearsal of his play "Every Woman," which has its first production in Hartford, Conn., tonight. Browne was born in York, England, 65 years ago, but had long lived in this country.

ASSOCIATED WITH BELASCO.

Charles T. K. Miller, a Prominent Theatrical Manager, Dies.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9.—Charles T. K. Miller of New York city, one of the best known theatrical managers of the country, died in a hospital here today of uraemic poisoning. Mr. Miller was 44 years old and at the time of his death was associated with David Belasco. He was a member of the Lambs Club, New York.

AMENDMENT MAY BE FOUGHT.

The Reichstag Adopts a Change to Constitution for Alsace-Lorraine.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The committee of the Reichstag today adopted an amendment to the constitution proposed for Alsace-Lorraine, which, if enacted into law, will permit that territory to enter the empire a full fledged federal state on the same footing as the other members. The government's draft gave Alsace-Lorraine no representation in the Bundesrath, fearing to touch the ticklish question of the balance of power in that body. The committee amendment would give the no state three votes. The non-Prussian states of the empire probably will fight the amendment, as they are opposed to strengthening Prussia's influence.

UNION STRONGLY URGED.

No Reason for More Than One Methodist Church in America.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South was urged strongly yesterday by John A. Patton of Chattanooga, Tenn., chairman of the book committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which met for its initial session. "There is no reason," Mr. Patton said, "why there should be more than one Methodist Church in America today."

The split in the church occurred in 1844 over the question of slavery and Mr. Patton insisted that church leaders above and below Mason and Dixon lines believe the time has come when the breach between the sections can be healed permanently. The spirit of union found expression later in the day when it was decided that the publishing houses located in New York, Cincinnati and Chicago should hereafter be incorporated under one name and be known as "The Methodist Book Concern."

JOHN BROWN'S SON-IN-IAW.

Henry Thompson Dies at His Home in Pasadena at an Advanced Age.

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 9.—Henry Thompson, who was one of John Brown's lieutenants at Harper's Ferry, died at his home here last night. He was 89 years old. After the surrender of Lee, Thompson married Brown's daughter. She died here five years ago. Thompson and two of his brothers were pioneers in Kansas and joined Brown when he began his celebrated raids.

EMPEROR WILLIAM INDISPOSED.

Plans for Military Ceremony Cancelled on Account of His Cold.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—It was officially announced today that the cold from which Emperor William is suffering was taking an ordinary course and that His Majesty would remain in his rooms for several days. His indisposition made it impossible for the emperor to attend the court ball, at the palace last night, and he also cancelled the arrangements for the military ceremony which was to have taken place today, in connection with the entry of the sixth son, Prince Joachim, into the army.

AMBASSADOR REID ROBBED.

Thief Enters Mills Estate at San Francisco, Securing Jewelry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—Whitelaw Reid, American ambassador to Great Britain, who is spending a vacation at the estate of his late father-in-law, D. O. Mills, near here, was robbed of valuable jewelry Tuesday night. Foot prints in the garden and through the house indicate that the robber climbed to the second floor, by a back window, and made his way to a bedroom occupied recently by Mrs. Reid. Finding Mrs. Reid's room empty he went to the ambassador's sleeping apartment and was rewarded with much valuable loot, including a Swiss watch worth $500, 11 stick pins, most of them set with rubies and pearls, and a pair of gold cuff buttons. The raid was evidently hurried, for jewelry of greater value was left.

TWO BURGLARS BREAK JAIL.

Former Auditor of the Marietta, Columbus & Cleveland Road Escapes.

MARIETTA, Ohio, Feb. 9.—Edward A. Epler, former auditor of the Marietta, Columbus & Cleveland Railroad, who is charged with embezzling $5,000 of the funds of the railroad, escaped from the county jail early today. George Bayless, arrested on a charge of burglary, escaped with Epler. The county jail is situated on the fourth floor of the court house and this is the first escape ever made therefrom.

Apparently Epler and Bayless were assisted to escape by persons from the outside. A duplicate key to the cell doors had been made and with this the doors were unlocked. From the corridor the two dropped into an air shaft, going down two stories, whence it was easy to walk out through the court house. A large reward has been offered for the capture of Epler.

After getting out of the court house Epler and Bayless walked across the Ohio river bridge into West Virginia, bought through tickets for Pittsburg and left on a train, ostensibly for that city. Their escape was not discovered until several hours after the train had started for Pittsburg.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper 65¾, American Beet Sugar 44¾, American Smelting and Refining 80, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 107¼, Canadian Pacific 210, Chesapeake & Ohio 86, Chicago Mil. & St. Paul 128⅞, Erie 30½, Great Northern preferred 129½, Great Northern Ore Certificates 62½, Missouri Pacific 55, National Lead 57¾, New York Central 113¾, Northern Pacific 127⅜, Pennsylvania 128, Reading 159⅞, Rock Island 32⅞, Southern Pacific 115¾, Southern Railway 28⅝, Union Pacific 170¼, United States Steel 80⅜, Wabash preferred 27¼, Lehigh Valley 179.

10—The tone of the stock market was heavy at the opening today. Almost all the speculative favorites declined good fractions, Reading, on an initial sale of 1,500 shares, dropped 3½ and Union Pacific ¾. Chesapeake & Ohio and Erie sagged ⅜, and Atchison ⅝. Some of the minor specialties showed strength, American Steel foundries gaining ⅜ and United States Rubber ⅜.

11—Bear operators made a drive at the list soon after the opening and forced down prices sharply. Atchison, Chesapeake & Ohio, Lehigh Valley, Northern Pacific, Reading and Southern Railway preferred all lost 1 point or more. Before the close of the hour stocks rallied, Canadian Pacific leading with a rise of 1 point above yesterday's closing.

Noon—Speculation during the morning session showed a bearish tendency and the market was heavy. Advices from Washington renewed talk of an extra session of Congress, with the chances of tariff legislation. Failure of the Bank of England directors to reduce the discount also has an unfavorable effect. During the morning there was a general improvement, which restored prices to about last night's level. Erie issues were in active demand and at large fractional improvements. Lackawanna dropped 15 points. Bonds were steady. Money on call steady at 2¾ per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4 to 4½ per cent. Exchanges $317,035,104; balances $11,215,385.

MAUSOLEUM IN ERIE DESECRATED.

Body of William L. Scott's Sister-in-Law Missing.

Vandals Probably Commit Act in Order to Obtain Ransom.

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 9.—Body snatching that may equal the daring grave robbery that stirred the country more than a quarter of a century ago, when the body of A. T. Stewart, New York's pioneer merchant, was stolen, has stirred this section of Pennsylvania as nothing has since the sensational kidnapping which occurred in this vicinity a few years ago.

The mausoleum of the late Representative William L. Scott was desecrated some time between Monday and yesterday afternoon and the body of Mrs. McCollum, a sister-in-law of Mr. Scott, is missing from the vault. The discovery was made by two women walking through the Erie cemetery. The family was immediately notified and details of Erie police kept watch at the tomb during the night to greet the body snatchers should they return. None appeared, however. Whose body was taken has not been officially disclosed. The first information to the public came from the family. The police believe that the body is being held for ransom and that the vandals also intended to carry away the bodies of the millionaire and his wife.

When the women in the cemetery found broken chains and open doors in the mausoleum they notified Mrs. Charles H. Strong, daughter of Mr. Scott, and wife of Charles H. Strong, president of the Erie & Pittsburg Railroad and the Erie County Electric Light Company, the owner of the Erie Dispatch. Mrs. Strong notified the police and Mrs. Thora Strong Ronalds, a granddaughter of Mr. Scott, started for the cemetery with her father, Mr. Strong. The caskets are sealed in a wall and a chisel had been used in breaking the seals before the metallic box could be carried away.

The casket taken was the first of the lower tier at the north side of the mausoleum and directly opposite it on the second tier are the caskets containing the bodies of Congressman and Mrs. Scott. The seal here was also broken and when the tomb was examined it was found that this casket was half way out and to all appearances was ready to be carried away. The remains of the millionaire were lying next to those of his wife, but his casket was not disturbed. A number of palms stored in the mausoleum had been broken down and two other caskets were broken into, but no attempt was made to carry either of them away.

That the casket and body were carried away in a wagon is indicated by tracks about the mausoleum. The foot prints of four and in some instances six men are discernible, about a point where the end of a wagon might be placed. The wagon tracks lead to one of the gates of the cemetery, where they are lost in the beaten tracks of travel. An Italian settlement near the cemetery has become an object of scrutiny by the police and every dwelling is being searched from cellar to garret.

The idea that the body of Mrs. McCollum is being held for ransom by designing persons is substantiated by an incident of two years ago when the Strong family was stormed with Black Hand letters demanding $10,000, with the alternative of having their summer home, west of this city, blown to atoms. The perpetrators were subsequently apprehended and are now in the Western penitentiary. Mrs. McCullom was a member of a prominent family of Philadelphia and her maiden name was Tracy.

William L. Scott, who built the mausoleum over 20 years ago, was a close personal friend of the late Ex-President Grover Cleveland and was one of the leaders of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives when Cleveland was serving his first term as President of the United States. Grover Cleveland was one of the pall bearers at his funeral, his remains being the first to be interred in the vault. He was one of the most prominent railroad magnates of his time.

When day light broke ropes were stretched around the mausoleum to hold in check hundreds of curious sightseers. One of the big bronze doors on the mausoleum had been pried from its hinges and the other had been badly battered. Practically every casket in the vault had been tampered with, some of them having been opened, while that containing the body of Mrs. Anna McCollum was removed entirely. Just when the vault was broken into has not been determined. No clue to the ghouls or the missing body has been found. Mrs. McCollum died in Philadelphia nearly two years ago. She was the wife of J. A. McCollum and daughter of John A. Tracy of this city. The body was brought here and placed in the Scott vault, which is located about the middle of the cemetery and hidden from view from the street. On account of the cold weather, recently, few persons have visited the cemetery and the robbers were free to work with little fear of being molested.

STILL NO CHOICE.

Locomotive Engineers Favor Sheehan as Friend of Labor.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 9.—There was no choice for Senator on the twentieth ballot today. Sheehan received 75 votes, Shepard 10 and Depew 72, with 89 necessary for election.

A delegation of locomotive engineers called at the executive chamber today to present to Governor Dix resolutions adopted at the annual meeting of the state legislative board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, favoring Mr. Sheehan's candidacy, as a friend of organized labor.

Will Sheehan withdraw as a candidate for United States Senator? That is the question uppermost in the minds of legislators, weary and impatient over the failure to break the deadlock which has existed since January 17. While yesterday's conference resulted in the Democrats "getting closer together," in the opinion of Senator Cullen, one of the organization leaders, it failed to shake a single vote and many legislators have expressed the opinion that nothing short of Mr. Sheehan's withdrawal and the selection of a compromise candidate will end the struggle. Mr. Sheehan himself says he is still confident of election and Charles F. Murphy has indicated that he intends to continue the fight for the caucus candidate. Developments over Sunday probably will determine whether another conference will be called next week.

PAROLE RECOMMENDED.

Surgery Supposed to Have Made a Criminal Normal.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 9.—The state parole board at its meeting at the Clinton prison today was expected to parole Edward E. Gremmell, whom surgery is supposed to have transferred from a criminal into a normal man. Sentenced from Buffalo in April, 1908, for forgery, for a term of nine years and six months, Gremmell's sentence was commuted by Governor White to make possible his parole this month.

When a boy of 14, during a quarrel with a playmate, Gremmell suffered a fractured skull. Following this he claimed he could not resist impulses to commit crime, and several convictions followed. His case was called to the attention of allenists and in March, 1909, Dr. De Witt Wilcox of Boston University operated on the convict's skull, after he had expressed a desire to lead an upright life. The result of the experiment is being watched by allenists, and Governor White recommended to the parole board that Gremmell be kept on parole for a much longer period than usual. If Gremmell commits even a misdemeanor he will be returned to the prison to serve out his sentence.

DISCREPANCY IN RATES.

Springfield and Brattleboro Residents Question Railroad Fares.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 9.—Springfield and Brattleboro residents are curious to know why the railroad fare from the Vermont town to this city is $1.55, while it costs only $1.30 to go from here to Brattleboro. It also costs more to get out of Vermont from points north of Brattleboro than it does to go to the same places from Springfield. The local railroad officials say that the discrepancy in rates is due to the failure of the Boston traffic bureau to complete its work of revision, recently undertaken. The railroad people say that the bureau has been overworked and that a re-adjustment is probable soon. For a long time the same difference has held true in points in Massachusetts. It was cheaper to go from Chicopee through Springfield to Boston than it was to go simply from Springfield to Boston. It has cost 30 cents less to go to Salem from Springfield than to return to Springfield from Salem.

DEER CHASED BY EAGLES.

A Large Buck Reaches Hastings on Hudson, from an Ice Floe in River.

HASTINGS ON HUDSON, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Trailed by eagles high in the air, a big buck deer with a fine pair of antlers made his way from an ice floe in the current of the Hudson to land today. The deer was seen on the river ice at Tarrytown last night and was almost exhausted when he reached land. The eagles apparently were waiting for the spent animal to fall. The birds were disappointed, however, for the buck procured a meal of snow covered grass and shrubbery.

CONDITIONS LESS ALARMING.

American Consul at Juarez Thinks Insurrectos May Give Up Attack.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Thomas A. Edwards, American consul at Juarez, reporting to the State Department under yesterday's date, declared that unless the Mexican insurrectos took the city within a few hours they would have to give up the attempt, as their position afforded them no means of subsistence. The revolutionists, the consul added, were fleeing back into the country for shelter. He said that conditions were less alarming and that with confidence restored business was becoming normal. The railroads, he continued, expected to resume traffic within 48 hours.

PROBABLY FATALLY SHOT.

Sheriff of Cumberland, Md., Injured in Attack With a German.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Feb. 9.—Sheriff Noah Hendley, aged 50, and John Sweltzer, aged 65, a German, were probably fatally shot in a gun battle today, when officers attempted to serve a writ of ejectment on Sweitzer at his home. Sweitzer twice wounded the sheriff, one bullet entering his breast just above the heart, and the other striking him in the hand. Sweltzer was shot through the breast by Deputy Sheriff Walter Clay. Sweltzer's home was sold three months ago for a judgment of $2,700. When Matern Gerbig, the purchaser, attempted to take possession, Sweltzer refused to leave and threatened to kill any one who entered.

Armed with the writ, Sheriff Hendley accompanied by Deputies Clay and James Corfield, went to the house this morning. Repeated rappings by the sheriff failed to bring a response and he broke in the door with a hammer. Sweltzer met him in the hall and fired twice, both shots taking effect. Before the aged man could fire a third time, Deputy Clay shot him through the breast.

A VICTIM OF PENUMONIA.

Walter Browne, Dramatist and Newspaper Man, Dies in New York.

NEW York, Feb. 9.—Walter Browne, a dramatist and newspaper man, died today at the Audubon Hospital. His death was due to pneumonia, following a cold contracted a week ago while the writer was attending a rehearsal of his play "Every Woman," which has its first production in Hartford, Conn., tonight. Browne was born in York, England, 55 years ago, but had long lived in this country.

ASSOCIATED WITH BELASCO.

Charles T. K. Miller, a Prominent Theatrical Manager, Dies.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9.—Charles T. K. Miller of New York city, one of the best known theatrical managers of the country, died in a hospital here today of uraemic poisoning. Mr. Miller was 44 years old and at the time of his death was associated with David Belasco. He was a member of the Lambs Club, New York.

AMENDMENT MAY BE FOUGHT.

The Reichstag Adopts a Change to Constitution for Alsace-Lorraine.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The committee of the Reichstag today adopted an amendment to the constitution proposed for Alsace-Lorraine, which, if enacted into law, will permit that territory to enter the empire a full fledged federal state on the same footing as the other members. The government's draft gave Alsace-Lorraine no representation in the Bundesrath, fearing to touch the ticklish question of the balance of power in that body. The committee amendment would give the no watate three votes. The non-Prussian states of the empire probably will fight the amendment, as they are opposed to strengthening Prussia's influence.

UNION STRONGLY URGED.

No Reason for More Than One Methodist Church in America.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South was urged strongly yesterday by John A. Patton of Chattanooga, Tenn., chairman of the book committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which met for its initial session. "There is no reason," Mr. Patton said, "why there should be more than one Methodist Church in America today."

The split in the church occurred in 1844 over the question of slavery and Mr. Patton insisted that church leaders above and below Mason and Dixon lines believe the time has come when the breach between the sections can be healed permanently. The spirit of union found expression later in the day when it was decided that the publishing houses located in New York, Cincinnati and Chicago should hereafter be incorporated under one name and be known as "The Methodist Book Concern."

JOHN BROWN'S SON-IN-LAW.

Henry Thompson Dies at His Home in Pasadena at an Advanced Age.

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 9.—Henry Thompson, who was one of John Brown's lieutenants at Harper's Ferry, died at his home here last night. He was 89 years old. After the surrender of Lee, Thompson married Brown's daughter. She died here five years ago. Thompson and two of his brothers were pioneers in Kansas and joined Brown when he began his celebrated raids.

EMPEROR WILLIAM INDISPOSED.

Plans for Military Ceremony Cancelled on Account of His Cold.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—It was officially announced today that the cold from which Emperor William is suffering was taking an ordinary course and that His Majesty would remain in his rooms for several days. His indisposition made it impossible for the emperor to attend the court ball, at the palace last night, and he also cancelled the arrangements for the military ceremony which was to have taken place today, in connection with the entry of the sixth son, Prince Joachim, into the army.

AMBASSADOR REID ROBBED.

Thief Enters Mills Estate at San Francisco, Securing Jewelry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—Whitelaw Reid, American ambassador to Great Britain, who is spending a vacation at the estate of his late father-in-law, D. O. Mills, near here, was robbed of valuable jewelry Tuesday night. Foot prints in the garden and through the house indicate that the robber climbed to the second floor, by a back window, and made his way to a bedroom occupied recently by Mrs. Reid. Finding Mrs. Reid's room empty he went to the ambassador's sleeping apartment and was rewarded with much valuable loot, including a Swiss watch worth $500, 11 stick pins, most of them set with rubies and pearls, and a pair of gold cuff buttons. The raid was evidently hurried, for jewelry of greater value was left.

TWO BURGLARS BREAK JAIL.

Former Auditor of the Marietta, Columbus & Cleveland Road Escapes.

MARIETTA, Ohio, Feb. 9.—Edward A. Epler, former auditor of the Marietta, Columbus & Cleveland Railroad, who is charged with embezzling $5,000 of the funds of the railroad, escaped from the county jail early today. George Bayless, arrested on a charge of burglary, escaped with Epler. The county jail is situated on the fourth floor of the court house and this is the first escape ever made therefrom.

Apparently Epler and Bayless were assisted to escape by persons from the outside. A duplicate key to the cell doors had been made and with this the doors were unlocked. From the corridor the two dropped into an air shaft, going down two stories, whence it was easy to walk out through the court house. A large reward has been offered for the capture of Epler.

After getting out of the court house Epler and Bayless walked across the Ohio river bridge into West Virginia, bought through tickets for Pittsburg and left on a train, ostensibly for that city. Their escape was not discovered until several hours after the train had started for Pittsburg.

TWO WELL KNOWN WOMEN.

Deaths of Mrs. Florence K. Howland and Mrs. James H. Clarke, Both in Advanced Years.

Mrs. Florence K. Howland died at her residence on High street Wednesday evening, after a long illness. She was a Miss Little, a member of a well known Newport family, prominent here in the early part of the past century. Her first husband was John Rivers King, grandson of Samuel King, a well known portrait painter, who instructed Washington Allston. Her son, the late Clarence King, was for many years connected with the United States Geological Survey and for several years before his death was at the head of that institution. She married later Samuel G. Howland of New York, and two children survive that marriage—Mrs. Townsley, wife of Colonel Clarence Townsley, coast artillery corps, U. S. A., and George Howland, who resides in Paris.

Mrs. Howland a number of years ago was prominent in the charitable work of this city and of the state and was for some time head of the Prisoners' Aid Association. She gave unostentatiously for the relief of the poor in Newport, and was ever ready to do what she could to relieve distress and suffering. In recent years she had been confined to her home by the infirmities of age, and had been seen only by relatives and intimate friends.

Her daughter, Mrs. Townsley, was with her at the end. Her son, George Howland, was here from Christmas time until two weeks ago, when his business made it necessary to return to Paris. Mrs. Howland was one of the oldest members of the United Congregational Church, having joined July 1, 1849.

Mrs. Clarke, widow of James H. Clarke, died suddenly at her residence on John street late Wednesday afternoon. Some weeks ago she fell at her home and broke her hip, which, despite her advanced age, resulted satisfactorily to treatment and she was able to sit up daily and receive numerous callers. The immediate cause of death was a shock of paralysis. Her physician was called but nothing could be done to prolong her life and she quietly passed away.

Mrs. Clarke was a practical, everyday Christian woman and a communicant at Emmanuel Church, in which she and her family have taken a deep interest. She filled her home with sunshine and never talked of her troubles.

She leaves one sister, Mrs. Clarke, widow of William P. Clarke; one daughter, who is unmarried, and four sons—Mr. William H. Clarke of the Pioneer & Manchester Company, Mr. H. Howard Clarke, Mr. Samuel H. Clarke and Mr. Marion McAllister Clarke of New York. She also leaves a large number of nephews, one being ex-Mayor W. P. Clarke, and nieces.

The deceased was of the eighth generation from Francis Wyman, one of the first settlers of Woburn, Mass., who signed the town orders in 1640, and the fourth generation from Nathan Wyman, one of the minutemen who carried the Lexington alarm April, 18, 1775.

MACHINISTS' CLOSE GAME.

Y. M. C. A. Bowling Team No. 6 Leads—Reeves's Breaks Tie for First Place in Series.

In the Young Men's Christian Association bowling tournament Wednesday evening team No. 6 won two of three strings from No. 7, the former taking the first string by 29 and the third by 10 pins, and the latter the second by 6 pins. Hart made the high single, 123, and Tanner the high total, 280, the latter including a single of 109. The scores were as follows:

Team No. 6.
Tanner	90	81	109	280
Harry	80	76	112	273
Austin	80	99	92	240
Sherman	80	80	80	240

Walker	83	95	73	251
Ward	76	96	74	236
	490	413	381	1184

In the Machinists' League Reeves's team, by taking three straight strings from Hamilton's, broke the tie for first place and went into the lead in the series. The game was close and interesting the Reeves team winning by margins of 6, 35 and 8 pins. Kent had the high single, 100, and Hamilton the high total, 272. The scores:

Reeves's Team.
Cooper	82	85	88	269
Gardner	84	83	88	256

FUNERAL OF DANIEL F. CORCORAN.

The funeral of Daniel F. Corcoran took place this morning from St. Joseph's Church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father Mahon, assisted by Rev. Dr. Doran as deacon and Rev. Father O'Rourke as sub-deacon. There was a large attendance of neighbors and friends. The interment was in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery and the bearers were the four sons-in-law of the deceased—Thomas McNamara of New York, James J. Callahan, Nelson W. Barnes and Frederick Schroeder of this city.

FIRE IN A BEDROOM.

After It Was Out an Alarm Was Struck, calling the Department.

New Horses of Truck 1 Have Their First Run, Under Severe Traveling Conditions.

About 8:15 Wednesday evening Officer Loughlin was standing on West Broadway, just above Oak street, when he noticed a light in the house across the way. It was a sort of flare and attracted his attention to such an extent that he rang the bell and questioned the people in the house. There was no light up stairs and they "knew" it, but the officer knew different. A look up stairs showed that the light was from a fire in the bed and bed clothes. The officer brought the bed clothes down and threw them outdoors and they were soon extinguished. A man from across the street and a woman in the house brought water and the mattress was put out; that is, the fire in the mattress was put out.

When everything was in safety and the officer was calling up the station to report he heard the fire alarm ring and Hose 4 stopped in front of the house. Driver Holt said a boy came up and reported the house on fire. Officer Loughlin said that was 15 minutes ago; the fire was out. The alarm rang at 8:30 and the recall at 8:40, and the many who had hastened to respond—for that box covers a big residential neighborhood—stopped.

The boy who gave the alarm must have been as fast as "Jimmie," who caused the fire by lighting a match to find something in the bedroom, not reporting that he had set the bed on fire when he came down stairs. Officer Loughlin needs a new pair of gloves, some new bed clothing is needed at Mrs. Williams's, and the mattress needs an overhauling. Otherwise, there is only the regret of those who started for the fire and did not reach the scene because the fire was out before the alarm was struck.

It was the first run for the new horses of Truck 1. They went on duty Monday and by Tuesday night were "coming under the harness" and giving a good account of themselves, but to put them up against such a test the first time was severe. The truck is too much for any two horses under the conditions which existed, and it is claimed that there can be no doubling up in case of need, because all accounts must now be itemized and expended for purposes named. The horses went to the fire and back, and happen to be none the worse for it today. The run was made via Marlborough street, to escape conditions which were feared to be had on Broadway. The men were obliged to assist the apparatus to the scene.

Of the old pair, Ben, the rheumatic horse, is at present at Station No. 2, waiting to be sold. Ned, who is still a good horse, perhaps a trifle lazy, but who has not been off his feed once in the eight years he has been in the department, is doubling up on the Eights.

At 3:30 this morning a still was sounded for a chimney fire in a house occupied by George F. Lawton, corner of West Broadway and Spruce street. Chemical 1 and Hose 4 responded. It was about opposite the house to which the department had been called the evening before. The run was the hardest part of the second call, there being nothing but a plain chimney fire.

POLICE COURT CASES.

Rock Albert Monast was arraigned at the police station this morning, charged with the larceny of a sweater, the property of another man at the Training Station. He pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs, $21.60 in all, which he hopes to pay. He was brought from Central Falls by Inspector Tobin.

Tiverton, after a long rest, was heard from this morning, Chief Manchester had a man named Davis, charged with being drunk. The prisoner disclaimed the charge, but pleaded guilty and paid his fine which totalled $8.20, being $2 and costs. It seems that there was a tragedy in connection with this case. Davis lives in Tiverton and was working for a man in Little Compton. He was driving home and some way from Anthony's hill, in Tiverton, met the electric car bound for Newport. There was plenty of room for both the horse and the car on the road but there was a head-on collision and the horse was killed. Davis was arrested for being drunk.

TO REDUCE THE VOTING PLACES.

Representative Sullivan Presents Amendment to the Districting Act, Applying to Newport.

Representative Sullivan of this city, has introduced in the house of representatives an amendment to the state re-districting act, to exempt Newport from the provision which made it necessary to have 10 voting places last year. It is a simple little thing, which provides that a part of a district situated in another ward shall have a separate polling place. It is all right for the cities which have city and state elections at the same time, but for Newport is a cause of unnecessary expense. While it was reported that the Newport delegation to the General Assembly would favor such a change, it is now said that the politicians are against it. However, the amendment has been introduced and the voters can watch for the results.

A LECTURE ON THE EMIGRANT.

The Jamestown, N. Y., Times says: "One of the most interesting features of the morning was the lecture delivered by Dr. Edward A. Steiner upon the topic, 'On the Trail of the Emigrant'. Dr. Steiner is a man of attractive personality, eloquent in speech, brilliant in narrative and as he had a complete grasp of his subject the lecture was both delightful and profitable to the hearers."
